HITS PURPOSE OF COURT BILL

Sen. Bailey Charges Aim Is To Give Congress Power It Doesn't Have.

SAYS FIGHT "HOLY CAUSE"

Both Sides, Meanwhile, Expect Showdown Within Ten Days or Two Weeks.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13—Senator Bailey, Democrat of North Carolina, asserted today the administration's court bill was "confessedly" an attempt to obtain for congress power that the supreme court said it did not have.

The tall North Carolinian, his voice still hoarse from two hours of speaking yesterday, earnestly told the senate:

"If you want more power, don't get it by legislation. There is only one source of power in America. The source of power in America is the people of America."

Bailey stood at his desk, near the rear of the chamber, rarely moving to one side or the other. He gestured frequently to emphasize his words and occasionally paused to look searchingly at his colleagues nearby.

The former Baptist editor concluded with a warning that he and his associates in opposition to the bill were fighting a "holy cause."

"Very respectfully," he said, "let all take notice, those of us who oppose this measure are actuated by conviction. We know that our cause is a holy cause. You are dealing with devoted men."

Before the session started, majority leader Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, conferred with a dozen proponents of the court bill on the strategy they would follow the next few days.

Senators who attended said the conferees discussed the order in which administration adherents would speak, and made a rough division of subject matter.

Those attending included Senator Pepper, Democrat of Florida, one of the 17 senators publicly uncommitted on the bill.

Subsequently, Senator Black, Democrat of Alabama announced he would resume tomorrow the ad-

POLICE SELL CLUB EQUIPMENT FOR $98

Confiscated in South Main Street Gambling Raid.

Equipment seized by police in a gambling raid April 24 at the former Kentucky club quarters on South Main street, netted the city $98.55 when it was placed on the auction block and sold piece-meal yesterday morning. The auction was conducted by police and the money was to be turned into the city treasury through the municipal court, Police Chief Marks said.

Two adding machines, included in the confiscated property, accounted for almost half the proceeds of the sale. One sold for $24, the other for $24.50, while the remainder of the equipment, including chairs, stools, tables, flood lights and an amplifier set used in announcing race results, sold for $50.05.

STATE BUDGET BILL ADOPTED; GOES TO DAVEY

Possible Veto Seen on Ban Against Transfer of Departmental Employes.

SENATE PLANS INQUIRIES

Economy Bloc Claims $94,500,000 Appropriations Represent $5,500,000 Saving.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 13—Ohio's $94,500,000 appropriations bill for the 1937-38 biennium was safely over the legislative hurdles today and the long-drawn, bitter battle over funds for operating the state government moved toward the office of Gov. Martin L. Davey.

The legislature, in sharp contrast with the verbal fireworks that accompanied previous debate over the budget, completed action on the appropriations in apathetic meetings last night and apparently finished the major business of its special session.

Speculation arose immediately on the probable course of Governor Davey who has expressed vigorous opposition to one portion of the bill—a clause prohibiting future transfers of employes between departments.

The governor can veto individual appropriation items but legislative leaders contended disapproval of the employe-transfer ban would invalidate the entire bill.

The senate set in motion also widespread investigation of three state departments and inquiry of the governor's asserted use of state employes and equipment in distributing political literature.

Consolidated into a single resolution were proposals to investigate the civil service commission, liquor and highway departments by a committee of five senators—instead of separate probing bodies for each of the three departments.

Another committee of five senators was authorized to determine whether the executive transgressed any law in having state employes distribute copies of a pamphlet carrying his views on the budget fight.

The senate's "economy bloc," an anti-administration group known also as the "hatchet men," voted almost solidly for the inquiry resolutions, opposed by Democrats supporting the governor's legislative program.

Lieut. Gov. Paul Yoder, leader of the senate group, will name both committees. Payment of its expenses was provided from regular senate appropriations.

The budget bill represented a compromise worked out by a conference committee after disagreement between the house, insisting on the administration requests, and the senate, where the "economy bloc" demanded large cuts.

JUDGE DENIES OHIO LEGISLATORS FEES

Holds They Can't Collect Mileage for Trips Not Actually Made.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 13 — Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds refused today to permit members of last year's state house of representatives to collect approximately $20,000 in fees for mileage theoretically (but not actually) traveled during a recess.

Denying a judgment to J. Freer Bittinger, former speaker of the house, Judge Reynolds said:

"If, as a matter of fact, no legislative sessions were held between July 22 and Dec. 8, there is no reason for the members receiving mileage compensation. If it should be determined that the statute does entitle such payment, then the provisions to that effect would be unconstitutional."

Bittinger had asked a judgment after Arnett Harbage, farmer from West Jefferson, O., filed an injunction suit to prevent the representatives from collecting.

The former speaker contended that even though the legislature actually was not in session, its journal could not be questioned.

Judge Reynolds ruled that legislative acts could not be questioned but that ministerial acts, such as computation of mileage, could be challenged.

In his decision, Judge Reynolds traced the origin of mileage grants from the days of the Northwest Territory.

"Asking something for nothing," said the judge, "is abhorrent to our ideals and ideas, especially when it comes to favors granted to public officials. While there is much abuse of the position of public office, we still cling to the idea that a public office is a public trust and should be so regarded, else the confidence and respect which citizens should have in our institutions will be in danger of destruction."

PICKETS CHEER STEEL STRIKE AGREEMENT

Union pickets, who had been "on the line" for six weeks during strike at Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. plant at south Chicago, cheered the announcement of Gov. M. Clifford Townsend that company and union officials had agreed to a truce. Preparations were begun immediately to reopen the plant. (Associated Press Photo)

Electrical, Wind Storm Hits Galion, Crestline

Five in House Blown from Foundation at Galion; Heat Wave Checked Temporarily in Marion.

Galion, Crestline and several other points in Ohio last night were swept by wind and electrical storms, which brought respite from soaring temperatures but caused considerable damage.

Five persons narrowly escaped death at Galion when a two-room frame house was blown from its foundation; firemen were called when lightning struck two buildings; several streets were filled with three feet of water.

Electrical service at Crestline was interrupted and water reached the first floor of several houses. Two barns were unroofed at Bowling Green.

Lighting struck the WLW radio tower at Mason, near Cincinnati and several houses and buildings in Cincinnati. A two-inch rain flooded streets and basements in Bellevue.

Mrs. R. H. Hall of Williamstown was prostrated by the heat on a Kenton street while shopping yesterday.

Marion experienced at least a brief respite as light rains fell last night and today; yesterday's maximum temperature of 93 equals Sunday's high mark.

Little change in temperatures is predicted in the government weather forecast, although local thunderstorms tonight and Wednesday are expected.

5 NARROWLY ESCAPE IN GALION STORM

Special to The Star

GALION, July 13—Heavy damage was caused by a storm that struck the city Monday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Bolts of lightning and thunder crashes kept the city in terror between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock. This was followed by a near cloud-burst, and a miniature tornado struck the southeast section of the city.

A two-room frame home occupied by a family of five was blown off its foundation and turned on its side. Lightning struck two places and the fire department was summoned to extinguish the blaze. The wind also unroofed the Rathburn home on South Pierce street. Trees were blown over and a number of small buildings in the southeast section of the city were torn from their foundations.

At midnight Whetstone creek, which flows through the north end of the city, overflowed washing out for a second time in less than a month the major portion of approximately 30 acres of celery fields near Heise park. The fields had just been replanted following a severe rainstorm late in June. The crop is a total loss, it is reported.

Railroad traffic was held up while several electric wires blown across the tracks were being removed, and service men from the electric and telephone companies worked all night repairing cables

1,150 HERE TO GET PENSION REFUNDS

Payments to Railroad Men Expected To Arrive Before Aug. 15.

Approximately 1,150 Marion residents will share in the refund of millions of dollars paid by the nation's railroad employes into pension funds under the abandoned railway retirement act, a check up showed today. No estimate of the total coming to Marion workers was available other than that one company said average payments will be about $50 a man, thus making the total $57,500.

Replacing the previous pension act is the carriers taxing act of 1937 which became effective January 1. The refunds amount to the total of the payments of three and a half per cent of pay to the government from March 1, 1936 to Jan. 1, 1937, the life of the old act. Also included in the refunds will be the total of three-fourths of one per cent of the pay made from Jan. 1 to July 1. The additional refund represents the difference between the three and a half per cent actually paid to July 1 this year and the percentage which should have been paid under the new act, officials said.

The refund is expected to arrive at any time between July 15 and Aug. 15. The Erie railroad will have 990 employes sharing, the Chesapeake & Ohio will have 100, the Pennsylvania 60 and the New York Central 100.

In Galion 160 railroad workers will benefit.

RUSSIAN AIRMEN CROSS POLE, RACE OVER CANADA

Fliers May Land in Chicago Instead of San Francisco; Wire for Advice Because of Storm.

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, July 13—At 1 p. m. (EST) today, the army signal corps here reported the Russian transpolar fliers wirelessed "advise where to go; coast or east?"

The message gave no position, but army officers estimated the plane was about 360 miles north of the U. S. boundary near the 120th parallel in British Columbia.

A. Vartanian, Amtorg (Russian trading corporation) engineer and Soviet flight representative here, said he might recommend the plane make Chicago its flight terminus instead of San Francisco.

Army officers estimated the plane's speed at approximately 130 miles an hour, far above that of the preceding Russian plane which landed at Vancouver, Wash., about 700 miles short of its goal.

Soaring through snowstorms and a cyclone where terrific winds buffeted the plane, the fliers crossed the north pole at 4:14 p. m. (7:14

REPAIR WORK LAUNCHED HERE BY RAILROADS

Extensive Improvement Program Carried on by Lines Through City.

FUTURE WORK PLANNED

Tracks Rebuilt, Platforms Enlarged and Crossings Repaired by Roads.

Extensive improvement programs by railroads running through Marion, to cost more than $25,000, are well under way in and near the city. With little or no new construction in the last year or two, the companies are now enjoying increases in business as high as 40 per cent over last year which warrant expenditures for road improvement, officials said.

The Erie Railroad Co. is spending $18,000 in and near Marion this year and has under consideration for construction in the next year or two a new car yard near the west hump to cost between $30,000 and $60,000, F. J. Tamplin, division superintendent, said.

Big Four Program

At the Union station the Big Four is working on extension of loading platforms from the station to Leader street and also has proposed changing the switch bridge over the east-west tracks at the depot to a point farther west, beyond the C. A. O. tracks. The relocation of the bridge will facilitate handling of trains, according to Big Four officials.

The $15,000 Erie program, now completed with the exception of a $1,450 sand drying house in the roundhouse here, consisted largely of construction of new crossovers and switches in the east-bound hump. Two cross-overs were changed in the west-bound hump also. Two sections of track, each about 25 car lengths long, were constructed near the west-bound hump in preparation for the proposed new car yards.

The sand-drying house will be of concrete and steel and will be used to dry sand for locomotives which carry it to spill in front of the driving wheels for traction. A few minor repairs were made in the roundhouse also.

Crossings Improved

The Chesapeake & Ohio has confined its program largely to repairing of grade crossings at Silver street, Center street, Bellefontaine avenue and Prospect road, John Zook, chief clerk here, said. The road has also constructed a new loading platform between the north and south tracks about 200 feet north of the Erie crossing.

Both the C. & O. and Big Four platforms are for passengers, ordinary baggage and express shipments. They are of concrete and wood. The Big Four extension will require most of the summer for completion.

In addition to its new platform, the Big Four is also relaying approximately 15 miles of track immediately to the east and west of Marion with new rails, according to T. J. Hayes of Bellefontaine, division superintendent.

The Pennsylvania railroad is planning a series of crossing repairs in Marion and has just finished laying a mile and a half of new track near Waldo, Darrell DeVore, supervisor here, said. Plans include raising the crossings at Center street and Bellefontaine avenue and later this summer at Silver street. Rather extensive improvement of tracks in this vicinity is contemplated for later work, he said.

Ruttenberg Assails Police Action in Fight With Strikers at Massillon.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 13—Bespectacled Harry J. Ruttenberg described today in federal district court Sunday night's clash between police and steel strikers at Massillon as "premeditated murder."

Under cross-examination of counsel opposing the attempt of the committee for industrial organization to enjoin the activities of National Guard troops in the Ohio steel strike area, the 32-year-old union research director said of the clash between local officers and strikers:

"It was a planned and premeditated murder. There is no question but that they (the police) came here to shoot these people down in cold blood, and they did."

Two persons were killed and 15 injured in the bullet-marked skirmish near Massillon CIO headquarters. Guardsmen restored order after local officials requested their help.

QUESTIONS SON OF ROOSEVELT

Rep. Treadway Asks About James' Tax Returns for 5-Year Period.

QUIZ IS INTERRUPTED

Committee Refuses To Press Demands; Hears Voluntary Statement.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13—Representative Treadway, Republican of Massachusetts, demanded today that James Roosevelt, son of the President, submit to a congressional tax committee his income tax returns for a five-year period during which he was in the insurance business.

The committee, however, refused to press the demand, deciding to take it up later in closed session.

Young Roosevelt, now serving his father as secretary, entered the insurance business in 1932. He appeared before the committee somewhat unexpectedly today and denied a suggestion of Representative Fish, Republican of New York, that he had had an interest in a personal holding company in the Bahamas.

Treadway sought to question Roosevelt about the names of some of his insurance clients. Representative Vinson, Democrat of Kentucky, objected. The Massachusetts member then asked him to submit the returns.

"Glad" to Submit Returns

"I shall be glad to," Roosevelt replied.

Treadway said he had hoped to avoid making the request. Vinson interrupted him to assert that "even the gentleman from Massachusetts shouldn't be so dumb—"

The remainder of his remarks was lost as he and Treadway roared at one another and Doughton rapped for order.

The committee then decided to settle the matter in the privacy of a closed session.

Fish suggested to the committee last week that it examine the income tax of the President's son. Fish said a Mr. Darby of New York City had come to him with a statement that he had a photostatic copy of such information as the holding company.

Roosevelt told reporters he did not know Darby.

Asks to Make Statement

When the committee opened its session, the tall son of the President stepped forward and asked committee chairman Doughton, Democrat of North Carolina, whether he could make a statement.

"Will you give your name and address, please?" Doughton asked.

"I am James Roosevelt," the witness replied.

"I live at 2331 O street, Washington."

"You may proceed," Doughton said.

Roosevelt continued:

"On July 9, Congressman Fish appeared before your committee

FARMER HURT IN FALL OFF WAGON

Jacob Hummer, 50, a farmer of near Caledonia, suffered a fractured right hip in a fall from a hay wagon yesterday afternoon. He was brought to the City hospital late in the afternoon and was placed in a cast last night. Although his condition was "not very good" last night he was better this morning and his general condition was regarded as good, the hospital reported.

BULLET ENDS PURSUIT NEAR FAIRGROUND ST.

W. W. Garey, Running To Evade Arrest, Halted by Shot from Captain DeWees.

WILL RECOVER, IS BELIEF

Arrest Made on Charge of Non-Support, Filed by Wife.

Walden W. Garey, 32, of 660 Lee street is in the City hospital with a bullet wound through his body, suffered early this morning when he attempted to evade police officers as they sought to arrest him on a charge of non-support of his three minor children.

The physician who examined Garey at the hospital this morning said the wound did not appear to be in a serious condition. An X-ray revealed the 38 caliber revolver bullet struck above the left hip and passed through the body, coming out on the left side. No vital spots were struck, the physician said as the bullet passed through the outer edge of the abdomen.

The shot that wounded Garey was fired by Captain Otis DeWees, who with Patrolman Henry Tong, had chased Garey from his home on Lee street to the region of Blake's greenhouse on West Fairground street. The shot was the second fired by DeWees as Garey refused to obey the officers' order to halt.

The police officers this morning sought to arrest Garey on a warrant filed in municipal court yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Ida Mae Garey of 520 Silver street, which charged that Garey had not supported his three children, Glendon, 11, Frieda, 8, and Helen, 7, since Nov. 1, 1936.

Immediately after the shooting the officers called an ambulance to take Garey to the hospital. Police Chief Marks, Prosecutor Paul D. Michel and City Prosecutor R. E. Cathcart talked to him briefly at the hospital. They said Garey told them he knew what the officers wanted and that he wanted to "give them the slip until this afternoon so that he could fix it up with his wife."

The shooting took place on DeWees' and Tong's second attempt this morning to arrest Garey.

Full Account Given

In the chief's office at police headquarters in the presence of Chief Marks, City Prosecutor Cathcart and a reporter, DeWees and Tong related the incidents leading up to the shooting and subsequent capture.

The first attempt to serve the warrant was made at 5 a. m. when DeWees and Tong went to the home of Wilbur R. Hughes at 660 Lee street, brother-in-law of Garey's, where he had been staying. The officers stopped their car in front of the house, DeWees staying behind the wheel and Tong going to the front door. In response to Tong's knock, Hughes answered from an upstairs window.

Tong said he told Hughes he wanted to see Garey. A few minutes later Garey came to the front door dressed in overalls and a shirt, but without shoes. "I told him I had a non-support warrant," Tong related, "Garey asked me to let him go back upstairs and put on a pair of trousers and I told him to go ahead."

Waits at Stairway

When Garey returned to his bedroom Tong went inside the house and stood by the stairway which leads to the second floor from the kitchen.

"I stood there about 15 minutes. I could hear some one moving about and talking. Finally I called to Garey to ask if he was about ready. About that time I saw him drop to the ground from an upstairs window and by the time I got the back door open he was about 150 feet away."

As Garey ran in an easterly direction Tong gave chase but finally lost him near Thompson and Evans street. Tong said he called to Garey twice to stop and that each time he turned around but

STOCK MARKET TRADING DULL

Yesterday's Leaders Lose Ground as Trading Momentum Slows Down.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 13—Buying power was lacking in most of today's stock market departments and many of yesterday's leaders settled down behind minus signs.

Offerings generally were meager, however, and trading momentum slowed appreciably after a fast opening.

Profit selling, brokers said, on the theory the market has yet to undergo a sizable correction because of the recent sharp recovery, was chiefly responsible for setbacks.

Bonds exhibited early improvement but became uneven as the session progressed. Wheat futures pushed higher. Other commodities were mixed.

Down the greater part of the day were General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, American Telephone, Anaconda, and General Electric.

Motor shares were said to have reflected some doubts as to output and distribution over the near future. Demand for new cars was understood to be easing off in several sections.

Scanning the economic picture, some market analysts expressed the view that seasonally adjusted indices of business activity are unlikely to show any further recession this summer than has already occurred.

It was believed the federal reserve board's index of production would show only a slight downturn in June from the preceding month and this decline would be due almost entirely to interruptions caused by the steel strike.

WHEAT PRICES SOAR IN EXCITED TRADING

Low Estimates on Canadian Crop Boost Quotations as Much as 7½ Cents.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 13—Running up like wildfire, wheat prices went as much as 7½ cents a bushel skyward here late today in excited trading.

Chiefly what set the market aflame were estimates that the 1937 Canadian Wheat Crop had already been reduced by drouth and heat to as low as 120,000,000 bushels. This would be approximately but a third of normal.

At the close, wheat was 5 cents to 6 cents above yesterday's finish, July 1.25⅜@1.26, Sept. 1.26½, corn unchanged to 2½ up, July 1.25½, Sept. 1.13⅞@1.14, and oats ⅜ to 2 cents higher.

POWER LINE STAKING FOR REA COMPLETED

Two-Month Job Ended in Marion, Nearby Counties; Construction Progresses.

Staking of 226 miles of power lines for the Marion Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., has been completed, Roland Looper, manager of the Farm Bureau, said today. The staking began May 12 and was completed July 12, two months to the day. Of the total, 100 miles are east of the cooperative's sub-station on the Beaver-Foster road near Harvey tower north of Marion, and 126 miles are west.

To date 60 miles of poles have been erected, 35 miles of wire strung and 35 miles of holes dug. The contractor, Paul L. Gilmore of Columbus, is now employing 45 men on the work under the direction of E. C. McAtee.

Meanwhile, word came today from Washington that the REA has approved an advancement of $17,943.74 out of the approximately $260,000 long-term loan to the Marion county project. Previously $8,400 had been advanced.

The approximately 800 customers in Marion, Crawford, Hardin, Morrow and Wyandot counties are expected to have their first electrical current in September.

ANDREWS FUNERAL SERVICES ARRANGED

Nephews of Marion Woman To Serve as Pallbearers.

Nephews will serve as pallbearers at the funeral of Mrs Thomas T. Andrews of East Fairground street, Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Schaffner-Denzer Co. funeral home on East Center street.

Those who will serve are Paul and Frank Drake and Robert and John Uncapher, nephews of Mrs Andrews, and Thomas Andrews and Marion Shetterley, nephews of Lt. Col. Andrews.

The funeral will be conducted by Rev Lawrence A. Wood of the Trinity Baptist church. Burial will be made in the Marion cemetery. Friends may view the body at the home tonight and at the funeral home after 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Mrs Andrews, former matron at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Xenia and wife of a former mayor of Marion, died yesterday at her home after a long illness.

C. B. KLING FUNERAL RITES HELD TODAY

Services Conducted at Home by Episcopal Church Rector.

Funeral rites were conducted today for Clifford B Kling of 254 East Center street, retired business man and member of one of the city's oldest families.

The service at 4 p. m at the home was read by Rev S S Hardy, rector of St Pauls Episcopal church Burial was made on the Kling family lot in the Marion cemetery, not far from the Harding memorial where the body of Mr. Kling's sister, Mrs Warren G Harding, is entombed

Among the relatives and friends attending the service were many of the city firemen attending as individuals and not in a body Fire Chief T J McFarland was among the pallbearers and virtually every man on the force not on duty was present.

Mr Kling was a daily visitor at the Central fire station and even after his health began to fail more than a year ago he continued to pay his daily visits riding to and from the station in a taxi He was interested in fire fighting and fire equipment and enjoyed the companionship of the firemen and his daily talks with them

Men of all the stations knew and were known to Mr Kling, and his personal interest in their welfare was evidenced from time to time by gifts to the various stations to provide greater comforts for the men while on duty. None of the gifts, several of which amounted to considerable sums, was ever publicized, in accordance with Mr Kling's wishes

Pallbearers in addition to Chief McFarland were Loring K Warner of Columbus Spanr Kling Harry J. Meacham, E Paul Perryman, Ward Rose, Harry J Maatz and Charles H Eckert

Mr Kling was a member of Marion Lodge No 32 B P O Elks having joined in 1892 three years after the lodge was instituted and of Marion Lodge No 70, F and A M Marion Chapter No 62, R A M, Marion Council No 22, R and S M and Marion Commandery No 76 Knights Templar

Campaign for New Ballot Progressing in State

Plans for obtaining 20,000 signatures of Ohio citizens on initiative petitions requesting the adoption of the Massachusetts ballot are progressing Paul D Smith Marion attorney and secretary of the state committee in charge of the campaign said today Thursday is the deadline for filing the signed petitions with the secretary of state for placing the proposal on the state ballot this fall

Mr Smith who has headquarters in the Virginia hotel at Columbus recently appointed a committee with Sen Vic Donahey as honorary chairman, to aid in the campaign Among the appointees are B O Skinner of Marysville former state director of education, Clifton Curyl of Marysville, former Union county prosecutor, Bruce Burgess of Delaware, Mrs Earl B Padgett of Galion president of the Ohio Federation of Women clubs and several prominent Columbus Cleveland and Cincinnati residents

Designed to curtail "coat tail" candidates from slipping into office on the strength of popular presidential candidates the Massachusetts ballot lists all candidates running for office under the title of the particular office sought with the party affiliation listed with each candidate Parties' slates are not listed in separate columns.

To insure fairness to all nominees names of candidates are rotated on the ballot Thus if 100,000 ballots are printed and four candidates are seeking an office, a candidate's name will appear at the top on 25,000 ballots, second on 25,000 third on 25,000 and fourth on 25,000

It is impossible to vote a straight ticket merely by marking one cross on the Massachusetts ballot For this reason Mr Smith said, candidates who merit election or reelection would be in less danger of losing in a landslide for the opposing party than they are at present Likewise an undesirable candidate would not stand as much of a chance of riding through to victory on the coat tails of his party's

MASSACHUSETTS BALLOT

(Short Ballot)

Under the Massachusetts Ballot the names of all of the candidates for any one office are grouped together under the name of that office as illustrated below:

PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT (VOTE FOR ONE)
FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT & JOHN N. GARNER (Democratic)
ALFRED M. LANDON & FRANK KNOX (Republican)
EARL BROWDER & JAMES W FORD (Communist)
WM. LEMKE & THOS CHAS. O'BRIEN (Union)
FOR GOVERNOR (VOTE FOR ONE)
JOHN W. BRICKER (Republican)
MARTIN L. DAVEY (Democratic)
ANDREW ONDA (Communist)
FRANKLIN COUNTY
FOR SHERIFF (VOTE FOR ONE)
JACOB SANDUSKY (Democratic)
ROSS ANDERSON (Republican)

Above is a sample of how the November 1936 ballot would have appeared if the proposed amendment to the Ohio constitution had been in effect.

presidential candidate Mr Smith pointed out

The question of the adoption of the Massachusetts ballot is of more concern than ever in Ohio now that county offices are four year terms and election come in presidential years when candidates usually occur, Mr. Smith said

16 ENROLLED IN CCC CAMPS

Boys Will Go to California, Two Other Quotas Set for This Month

With the enrollment yesterday at Mansfield of 16 Marion city and county youths in the civilian conservation corps it was announced by recruiting officials that the county will receive two additional enlistment quotas July 23 and July 30. Walter Guthrie deputy CCC selecting agent for the county announced that youths who wish to participate in the next enrollments may make their applications immediately at his office in the relief headquarters building at 131 South Prospect street.

Twenty three youths left Marion yesterday morning for enlistment in the CCC camps at Mansfield but seven of that number were rejected largely through failure to pass physical requirements Guthrie reported. The youths left Marion at 7:30 o'clock transportation being furnished by the county commissioners. After undergoing physical examinations at Mansfield the recruits entrained yesterday afternoon for Ft Knox Ky where they will spend a week in training camp.

The youths who took part in the enlistment yesterday will be sent to California Guthrie said after his return to Marion yesterday. Names of the youths who enrolled follow: James T Brown of near Marion Joseph D Carr of 349 Waterloo street Delbert M Hunt of near Marion Ralph D Jeams of 778 Fillmore street Lester D Roberts of 365 North Prospect street William S Smith of 5 5 Bennett street Webster N Sullivan of 747½ Bernett street Roy W Tharp of 762 Gill avenue James A Thornberry of 268 Ries avenue Walter F Uline of 210 Wallace street Richard N Walter of 333 Nye street Peter J Zwolle of 826 Silver street Russell K Needles of 422 Silver street Dale S Henderson of near Marion Paul R Clark of 625 Ballentine and Roland F Tennar of 332 Nye street.

New Provisions

Mr Guthrie received notification today that young men need not be of relief families in order to obtain a CCC appointment. The only requirement is that they be unemployed he said in urging such persons to make application for the two additional enrollments this month.

It will be necessary for such applicants to sign an affidavit stating they have no dependents and the affidavit will be forwarded to Mansfield with the application Mr Guthery said. Such applicants if accepted will have their pay deposited with the camp commander and will be paid in a lump sum at the close of the service. Relief youths are paid in installments the money usually being sent to their families.

STREET OILING PROGRAM STARTS

Work of applying 30 000 gallons of oil to about 30 miles of dirt and stone streets in Marion was started Saturday and will be completed this week Service Director John V Ruth reported today.

Mr Ruth issued a warning to motorists that the oiled streets are slippery and caution must be used in driving over them. Two minor accidents already have been blamed on the slippery streets.

The oil was furnished by the Ohio Road Improvement Co of Columbus whose workmen are putting it on the streets. Streets in the southwestern section of the city were being oiled today.

RELIEF LIST HERE REPORTED AT 207

10 Cases Added in May Administration Says

An increase of 10 cases over May in Marion county relief rolls was reported for June today by Relief Administrator Frank E Burns. The rolls now stand at 207 including 145 families and 1 single persons. The expenditure for June were $2368 of which $1 832 was for food $124 for additional supplies for clients and $512 for administration.

Mr Burns whose appointment by county commissioners was made shortly before June 1 said there has been no change in policy and that the rule still stands that only families with no able bodied or employable men are eligible for relief. The income of these families and persons must be below the subsistance level set up by commissioners.

He reiterated today his prediction that winter will find Marion county relief costs soaring to about $10 000 a month as seasonal employment drops off and families are again forced to seek public aid.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

Marion M Sharpe 30 colored of Little Rock Ark who was arrested Saturday by police on a charge of shoplifting pleaded guilty at an arraignment in municipal court Monday. He was given a 10-day sentence to the county jail and assessed the costs of prosecution by Municipal Judge Martin. Sharpe was accused by police of taking six pairs of men's hose from the Woolworth Co store and a sweater from the J C Penney Co store. The articles were valued at about $3.

COMMISSION RULES IN MARION CASE

Mrs Harry I Carr Disallowed Compensation

The state industrial commission yesterday ruled against the claim of Mrs Harry I Carr of 345 South Prospect street for $ 500 compensation on the death of her husband who was employed in 1924 by the Marion Masonic Temple Co. The decision of the commission was made at Columbus following consideration of written testimony taken here on December 31 Chalmers was referee.

The commission ruled that since the Temple company employed only six persons at the time of the accidental death of Mr Carr it did not come under the state industrial law which applies only to employers of three or more persons.

Fred I Garber representing the company said Mrs Carr can appeal to the court of common pleas here. The original claim was disallowed on Jan 21 1936 and shortly afterward Mrs Carr requested the rehearing. Mr Carr was killed Oct 27 1924 when he fell down an elevator shaft at the temple. He was building secretary. The commission ruled that the only other employe at that time was the secretary of the association.

He represented Mrs Carr at the hearing was Harry Elliot Columbus attorney.

Home On The Range.

Another hint of what may have caused Vice President Garner to be home on the range now instead of presiding over the senate was furnished in the opening salvo of debate on the court packing bill.

It was made clear at the outset that the presiding officer will be expected by the administration to use the power of his office to handicap opposition to the bill.

As the official responsible for recognizing members and applying rules regulating debate, the presiding officer—normally Mr. Garner—will be in the thick of the fight to force the senate to line up for Mr. Roosevelt's unpopular proposal.

No one can say that's why Mr. Garner went home to Texas. Only Mr Garner knows the real reason, and he won't talk. Still, among several excellent reasons which might have made him want "to get away from it all," the prospect of being an accomplice to the bludgeoning which court packers hope to administer to the opposition suggests itself as a powerful motive for wanting to be as far away as possible.

Still Green.

An impartial observation about organized labor in the United States at the moment might be that the American Federation of Labor hasn't lost so much ground as many observers said it would.

The CIO tornado, which promised to carry the A. F. of L. before it, has taken a somewhat cyclonic course lately, and whirling in its midst is William Green's organization, battered but unhowed.

In the lull following reopening of the steel mills which the CIO had been picketing, Mr. Green lifted his voice to charge that John L. Lewis and his co-leaders had done more to injure the cause of organized labor than any hostile employer in the United States.

He said the steel strike was unsuccessful because only a minority of workers were organized when the strikes were called and because CIO failed to hold public confidence during the course of the strike. Even Mr. Lewis must concede the existence of truth in Mr. Green's conclusions.

How the struggle between these two men and their organizations is going to come out is some thing for the gods charged with responsibility for union labor to decide. Among mortals, however, it is quite plain that the A. F. of L., which was supposed to wither up and blow away, is still Green.

Pacific Maneuvers.

It's no secret the navy's search for Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan in the Pacific is expensive—a quarter of a million dollars a day, according to one estimate.

Yet, this estimate, made public, caused scarcely any adverse comment. The public sees nothing wrong with spending money to conduct as thorough a search as possible. How could there be any thing wrong about it?

The navy is vastly expensive. Each year it is given a certain amount of money to spend. Its appropriations for the next 12 months will be more than half a billion dollars.

Part of that sum will be spent for Pacific maneuvers. This year, however, the maneuvers will include a search for two lives to save, a refreshing innovation.

Flap, Flap.

Memorial services for NRA's blue eagle were held Thursday when the senate education and labor committee voted a favorable report on a revised draft of the Black-Donnery wage and hour bill.

Not many Americans know any thing about this proposal. There's no need to know much, except this:

The Black-Connery bill was drawn for the particular purpose of regulating the textile industry. It would be applied, however, not only to textiles but to almost everything not specifically exempt.

In effect, the bill would do what NRA was supposed to do—boost wage levels by governmental decree and eliminate so-called child labor from all industries affected by it. Its introduction in the current congressional session illustrates what may come to be known as the method of persistence.

That method is to wear down the opposition until it is too exhausted to fight. The Black-Connery bill has met little opposition in congress. Neither has it won any considerable support. If passed, it will be because no one took the trouble to resist it. If held over, it will be because no one had energy enough to railroad it.

As part of the administration program, it probably will be passed. Some time thereafter, if that happens, the country will wake up one day to realize that the blue eagle didn't pass away after all.

Many Things Best Unsaid

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1937, by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON, July 13—Many things being said in the debate over the bill to "pack" the supreme court will be regretted some day but none so much as the outspoken declaration by Senator Logan of Kentucky, one of the leaders of the Roosevelt forces in congress, that he believes it would be well within the spirit of the Constitution for congress in effect to abolish the supreme court altogether.

Senator Logan was once elected to the highest court of Kentucky, so his remarks on the new trend of administration thought are being regarded seriously here as an indication of the lengths the Roosevelt regime feels it has a right to go in order to force the supreme court to decide cases as the executive may desire. But here is the exact language of that portion of the debate between Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, opponent of the court plan, and Senator Logan as taken from the official record:

"Mr. O'Mahoney: Did I understand the senator correctly when I thought I heard him say that any act of congress which would be within the letter of the Constitution would be within its spirit?

"Mr. Logan: I said it, because I said there was no difference between the letter and the spirit of the constitution, plainly expressed.

"Mr. O'Mahoney: And if the congress should refuse to appropriate for the executive arm of the government would that be within the spirit of the Constitution?

"Mr. Logan: Absolutely within both the letter and the spirit of the Constitution.

"Mr. O'Mahoney: Then is it the opinion of the able senator from Kentucky that the congress of the United States, by withholding appropriations from the judicial arm and from the executive arm of the government, would be within the spirit of the Constitution by striking down the other two coordinate branches?

"Mr. Logan: That which is specifically allowed by the Constitution itself the congress may do, and it is within the spirit of the Constitution. No one can dispute that. . . ."

Senator Logan went on to say that the procedure he had outlined was justified because there was no other check upon the alleged autocracy of the supreme court. Senator O'Mahoney replied, however, that the best check on supreme court decisions was to submit constitutional amendments in the future as had been done in the past.

Senator Logan, of course, is stretching matters to say that congress would be within the spirit of the Constitution, or the letter either, if it refused to appropriate funds to pay the supreme court expenses each year. Actually, the Constitution stipulates that there shall be "one supreme court" and vests in that court "the judicial power" of the United States. The mere fact that the Constitution creates the tribunal would seem to prove that the framers of the Constitution did not intend that any session of congress might destroy the supreme court by the simple device of refusing to appropriate. As a matter of fact, if this reasoning were true, a President of the United States could in effect be rendered helpless in office by a hostile majority in congress who refused to appropriate either his salary or the expenses of the White House.

No such method of attack on the acts of a chief executive was contemplated by the Constitution, which provides a method of impeachment for removing Presidents guilty of improper practices. The congress was never intended to be a policeman over the judicial branch of the government either.

Senator Logan's conception would make congress the supreme branch of the government, with greater power over the other two branches than ever was hinted by any declaration, pronouncement, speech or writing of any kind by any of the men who framed the Constitution of the United States.

The debate over the "packing" of the supreme court is bringing out very clearly the revolutionary theories which have been developed by the Roosevelt administration toward the traditional system of government which has been in operation for 150 years under a written Constitution. The opponents of the "packing" plan have stood staunchly by the document, declaring that court packing is not only against the letter but the spirit of the Constitution. The defenders—Senators McCarran, O'Mahoney, Burke, Bailey, and Wheeler, to mention only a few of them—have virtually demolished the arguments of the President's henchmen. Never in my recollection has there been a finer debate or a group of United States senators more alert to the defense of the Constitution.

For years it has become an American habit to be rather cynical about congress. Not so today. For the men who have been taking the risks of political reprisal by their own party—the new deal political machines—have shown themselves worthy of comparison with the greatest of the American senators of fifty and a hundred years ago. They have made it necessary to distinguish carefully between "rubber stamps" and patriots because hereafter generalizations cannot be considered to apply.

What It Means:

Border Gunfire in Far East

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
Associated Press Writer

Morgan M. Beatty tells in this week's "What It Means" story the background of the trouble developing in the far east as related to the recent skirmishes on the Soviet-Manchoukuoan border.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Every time pistol fire disturbs the air over the Soviet-Manchoukuoan border in the far east, the world shoots an apprehensive glance toward Moscow and Tokyo.

Are Japan and Soviet Russia about to start another war?

World diplomats frown, confer and hope not.

In fact, the belief here is that the open skirmishing is nothing more than natural heat-lightning that occurs intermittently along any unmarked boundary in a near-wilderness. And certainly the Amur river dividing the Soviet and Japan's puppet state is a shifty, hazy boundary, if ever there was one.

But the real international fear is that Japanese and Russian zealots may be magnifying the border explosions to stir up patriotic fervor among none-too-enthusiastic populations.

As for the border troops, themselves, the military men on both sides of the river have to keep their official noses clean. Just to show enthusiasm and pride, they must report back home that they're telling the other fellow "where to get off," and following up the verbal assaults with appropriate battle fire.

And so the vicious circle whirls steadily on—to what?

Few disinterested watchers doubt that the far east is slowly developing into a tinder box as dry and dangerous as Europe's notorious Balkans. A few experts fear that Japan and Russia might find themselves in a large-scale war one fine day without having intended to reach that crisis.

But perhaps you'd like to examine the evidence yourself. Let's start with the domestic situation in these two countries.

Japan's Shape.

Here's a peek at Japan:

The Japanese parliament meets again soon with the heretofore dictatorial army group no longer completely in the saddle. In fact the two big political parties opposing the army won 400 of the 466 seats in parliament in the April elections. A coalition cabinet has the reins of government.

The political parties have the support of a large faction of business men who look at life much as do American and British business men. These Japanese want a balanced budget and are willing to forego some imperial aggression to get it.

Running close to $6,000,000,000, the current Japanese budget is one of the largest in the nation's history, and what makes matters worse, the taxpayers are shouldering heavier taxes to keep the military machine up to snuff. Nearly half the budget is going to the army and navy. Heretofore, the large budgets beginning with the Manchoukuoan conquest in 1932 have been financed by loans instead of additional taxes.

And incidentally, prices have been rising in Japan, even on food in the great Tokyo markets. Combine all these factors and you have the elements of discontent, or at best, an apathetic interest in many quarters in the army's scheme to build a machine as big as Soviet Russia's.

Russia's Situation.

Now look at Russia:

Widespread confusion and fear have followed the execution of nearly 200 citizens accused of trying to sabotage the Stalin government.

Eight of the executed persons were among the most brilliant generals in the Soviet army. It is whispered in Great Britain that these generals were trying to form a military alliance with the German army to pave the way for military dictatorships in both countries, and thereby cut down the power of Hitler and Stalin.

Official reports of sabotage continue to fill the Russian press, with the second five-year industrial plan drawing to a close this year. If these reports are true, the question immediately arises: has Stalin's second five-year plan actually failed?

If it has, what effect will that failure have on the already projected third five-year plan, during which Russians are expected to "overtake and surpass" the United States industrially?

Meanwhile the financial status of the nation remains a mystery, but it is plain enough that Stalin has been encouraging any scheme that will give the nation a common subject for enthusiasm. The daring polar flights are an example. And while he warns the nation of its enemies without, what better proof that such enemies are active than the Manchoukuoan border clashes? He used one of the recent border clashes as a springboard for a huge domestic defense loan.

International Comparison.

Now look at the international position of the two nations:

Japan is pledged in a treaty with Germany to fight off the spread of communism. This encourages stories in the press relating the communist menace, and army statements that Japan must continue to build her military machine.

The Russian press has long told its readers to prepare for war against those who would destroy communism. With Japan and Germany openly pledged to such destruction, the common foe must be Germany and Japan. Stalin has been sending reinforcements to the far east provinces along the Manchoukuo border, and he may have established a self-sufficient army around Vladivostok. But have military executions disturbed the morale of that army? Maybe the Japanese can find out through "border clashes." Maybe.

Learning How To Take It.

The heat is as hot as it used to be, and there's probably as much complaining about it as there used to be, too. But there is an important difference.

When a heat wave strikes the United States now, the United States strikes back. Starting with the children, who have a minimum of modesty to affront, it begins to peel off clothing.

Not everybody can wear a sun suit, unfortunately, but for the grown-ups there are subterfuges which grandfather and grandmother never heard of—loosely woven fabrics, ventilated shoes, air conditioning, electric fans, swimming pools and styles of dress appropriate to all these modern improvements.

Mental temperatures should drop at least 10 degrees when grandpa in his heavy suits, high shoes and starched shirts and grandma in her buttoned shoes and multitudinous petticoats are remembered.

There are many dates of great importance in connection with the negotiations, discussion and debates attending the transfer of the Northwest territory from the jurisdiction of the states claiming it to the jurisdiction of the United States.

But certainly none is more important than July 13, 1787. On that date the celebrated Northwest Ordinance was actually enacted. Probably the most important of its provisions was its prohibition of slavery in this territory.

It also provided for its temporary government and its division into states. As a result the five states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin came into being.

Not the Democratic Way

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, July 13—There is ample room for honest differences of opinion about the way in which the courts have interpreted the Constitution, about the relation between the judicial power and the legislative, about the personnel of the present supreme court, about its record. But can there be any real difference of honest opinion about the manner in which the administration has sought and is seeking to treat these great problems?

Is there any one who now denies that the porposal made by the President last February was presented in a message that was inaccurate and misleading? That the real intent was concealed? That when the real intent was avowed, it was revealed as false to the plain words of the platform on which he was elected? Is there any one who denies that the supporters of the measure were unable to defend it at the public hearings? That they have been silenced by the weight of argument against it, and have never dared to make a formal reply to the criticism of the senate committee? That they had to withdraw the bill without daring to let it be discussed on the floor of the senate, without daring to let it be put to a vote?

And can it now be denied that they are seeking to achieve precisely the same end by altering the outward form but not the inner substance of the original proposal? That the new bill does all that the old bill aimed to do, that it does the very same things which public opinion condemned and the administration did not dare to defend, that the only respect paid by the administration to public opinion has been to shift from a frontal attack to a flank attack, that its reply to the defeat of the first measure has been to cover the defeat of one trick by inventing another trick?

If this is a different bill from the original bill, why is it not submitted to the appropriate committees of both houses? Why are there to be no hearings? Why is there to be no thorough examination by competent men? Why is there no official report explaining the intent of the bill and its operation? If this second bill is what it pretends to be, an honest attempt to meet the criticism brought against the first bill, why is the regular procedure abandoned? Why are the leaders of opinion denied the chance to appear before a committee and express their views? Why is the senate being asked to vote without having before it a considered defense or a thorough critical analysis?

There is no escape from the conclusion that what the administration could not do by an open appeal to public opinion, it is now proposing to do by slick maneuver and sleight-of-hand. There are a few weak senators, men without resistance or without the capacity to understand the issues, whom it needs. They do not dare to vote for the original bill because it has a bad name. So a new name has been invented. The same package is now tied together with pink ribbon instead of red ribbon. For them this second bill has been devised to enable them to support the administration and at the same time to confuse their constituents by saying that they voted for a "compromise." They are to go home and tell the people that they have committed no sin because their illegitimate infant is a somewhat smaller infant than the one which was originally conceived.

The manner in which this measure is being promoted is an unpardonable degradation of the democratic process. The issue is as great as any that can be raised in the realm of constitutional government. The procedure is to pass the measure in the heat of the summer, when public opinion is at its lowest vitality, to achieve the end by evading debate, by resort to pressure, by breaking down the physical resistance of the opposition.

Surely a measure which signifies so much is entitled to cool, calm, and thorough consideration. No one can pretend that the administration strategists are willing to let it have cool, calm, and thorough consideration. Their procedure betrays their purpose. They do not want debate. They want to force the issue. They do not want to convince the public. They want to score a victory. They do not attempt to prove that they are right. They are determined to prove that they are irresistible.

This is not the way men act when they are loyal to the principles of democratic government. This is the method of arbitrary men, and, if they succeed, the damage they will do to the court will be only an aspect of the damage they will have done to democratic government. For they will have established the precedent that the customs of democracy do not bind a dominant party, and that those who hold the power may use it without scruple.

Lone Wolf Globe Trotter

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 13—Tippy Gray continues the most consistent of the international gadabouts—as homeless as smoke and always adrift. For more than 20 years wherever there is excitement Tippy is more than likely to bob up suddenly, look about pleasantly and as suddenly vanish.

A plump bachelor, he is a lone wolf among globe trotters. He knows almost everybody but no one seems an intimate. He is a sideline looker on at life, gazing with the detachment of a modern Punch and murmuring the same immortal line, "What fools these mortals be!"

His only participation in the activities is as a bob-sled runner at the early Lake Placid races. One may meet him having coffee on the verandah at Shepheard's in Cairo one week and a few weeks later bump into him casually strolling the Shanghai Bund.

A versatile musician, he has written several revue numbers around the famed Mistinguett at the Moulin Rouge in Paris. And with appreciative listeners he will often occupy the piano chair all night to improvise. Loving life, he seems constantly fleeing from it.

All my remembering years I have had eggs in some form or other for breakfast and relished them. That is, until a morning a month ago when they seemed tasteless. Next morning and the morning after that ditto. And I realized that past-st—like that—I had lost my zest for eggs. That was more than a month ago and there has been no change. Doctors speak of people becoming "allergic"—I cannot find the word in my dictionaries—to eggs frequently in middle years. Then there are those to whom the slightest taste of egg even in cooking brings on a violent nausea and fever. Napoleon was so bedeviled. So was Julia Marlowe and the former Premier Ramsay MacDonald suffers the same reaction.

Prospect park in Brooklyn is not only one of the greater city's most beautiful sweeps of acreage, but is enjoyed in the simple, natural manner of the fine parks in the old world, such as Hyde in London, the Bois in Paris and Tiergarten in Berlin. Families go to Prospect for picnic spreads on the green, children enjoy healthful games, and the lanes are filled with whispering lovers. Crime there has been negligible. All of which is in sharp contrast to the decadence in many of New York's famous breathing places. Central Park has for several years been notable for those who lay in ambush to rob and attack women. Hoodlums rock passing autos and a general lawlessness has made thousands who revere the place shun it. The bit of greenery in mid-town known as Bryant Park is another in eclipse. It has been the rendesvous of psychopathic lollipops who have made respectable people fearful to pass through after night-fall. Morningside Park, too, another beautiful roll, has been the scene of may heinous crimes. Manhattan parks also have a seedy air—An air that suggests neglect and lack of civic pride.

The horsewhipping of a philandering husband out with a lemon verbena blond in a fashionable Park avenue restaurant early this summer cost the management some $500 in unpaid checks from patrons who fled precipitately rather than face prospects of being witnesses in court. I am told that restaurateurs, as a result, now have a secret agreement that may prevent similar losses. In case of a sudden flare-up, certain employes are to lock the entrance doors until all chits are settled.

Cartoon continuity has become a valuable asset to the comic strip men. Before the comics carried the story from day to day many merely wound up with a hurled brick and a ballooned "Pow." But today the final panel must contain suspense and the greater suspense the higher the pay of the artist. Thus many writers are picking up the money furnishing suspense ideas for the limners.

Magnets of innocence: There were three of them, frisky, fluffy white, recently whelped and newly bathed puppies in a West 49th street dog shop window. In a circle they were scampering sideways and falling into the awkward, bewildered squats that only puppies achieve. Finally all three grew tired, stretched out helpless in a close huddle of sleep. And then detached from the sidewalk crowd two men and one woman. The puppies were lifted out of the window and in a few moments all were on their way to new homes where we hope new and the lasting happiness every pup deserves.

63 NAVY PLANES SET FOR EARHART SEARCH

Await Favorable Weather To Resume 11-Day Hunt for Pair.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, July 13 — The greatest war air force ever assembled for a peace-time mission—63 planes—was poised today ready to skim along the mid-Pacific equator in the navy's last search for Amelia Earhart, missing 11 days.

If weather conditions are favorable the planes will zoom from the aircraft carrier Lexington to survey an area of 36,000 square miles centering about bleak Howland Island.

It was Howland Island, a dot of land rising but two feet above the water, that the aviatrix and her navigator, Frederick J. Noonan, aimed for when they took off from Lae, New Guinea—a flight of 2,570 miles. Their last radio message on July 2 said they were within 100 miles of their goal, that they couldn't see land and that their fuel supply was almost exhausted.

Officials said the giant carrier, expected to reach the search area by dawn, was hampered last night by a tropical storm which might delay the aerial search.

An area 60 miles wide and 600 miles long extending north and south from Howland was mapped for the first day's survey in the hitherto fruitless search.

While the Lexington neared Howland after a journey from San Diego, the coast guard cutter Itasca, pioneer in the vast hunt, headed toward the Gilbert Islands, 600 miles west of Howland.

The cutter is expected to reach Arorai Island which is populated, late tomorrow or Thursday.

earlier sought to impeach Ruttenberg's testimony. Druggan is aiding representatives of Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy.

"In order to impeach, I will ask a question formed from a sworn statement of an arbiter who was present at the time," Druggan said in undertaking the cross-examination.

"Isn't it a fact that two police officers were fired upon by pickets at Massillon?" Druggan asked.

"It not only is not a fact, but it is a damnable lie," quickly retorted Ruttenberg, raising his voice.

Ruttenberg, questioned by Carrington T. Marshall, CIO counsel, quoted the police chief of Massillon as threatening to "let the people on the heights have it." The Massillon CIO headquarters were on the heights, near the Republic Steel corporation plant.

Oliver T. Ferren, CIO picket commander from Canton, said that after the arrival of guardsmen in Canton "about 30 pickets were arrested who were doing nothing at all."

Quotes Guard Captain

He quoted Capt. Joseph Parilla of Youngstown as ordering guardsmen to: "Take every man off the pickets lines; use your bayonets run it through them. I don't want a man on the picket lines."

Ferren said he was arrested and held incommunicado.

Ruttenberg yesterday testified that the Massillon riot began when a "deputy" shouted, "let's bust 'em up," referring to pickets at CIO headquarters.

Mrs. Anna J. Thomas said that a deputy came to the door of the strikers' kitchen and shot a picket who had warned her and other women to leave.

Another witness was William Haines, a picket, who said he recognized three Republic employes among men using guns. Haines asserted the shooting was unprovoked.

GALION, CRESTLINE SWEPT BY STORM

and were damaged by the storm.

Traffic was blocked for some time on South street by fallen trees. A telephone cable down near the Erie railroad tracks on Harding Way East stopped traffic for some time.

Fuses blown out by the severe electrical storm kept most of the city in darkness for a number of hours.

The downpour of rain caused several streets to be flooded. The water was more than 16 inches deep on Parson street where traffic was blocked.

On East street the water was between two and three feet deep where the old Big Four reservoir and the Bollerer reservoir, located on opposite sides of the street, overflowed. Traffic was stopped for several hours at this point.

Dawett road in the southeast section of Galion was covered with water. The county line road between Crawford and Morrow counties south of Galion blocked the South street road for some time. Whetstone creek through Galion rose rapidly, and many citizens turned out to watch the roaring waters.

Have Narrow Escape

Herman Spurk, his wife and three children narrowly escaped serious injury or possible death when their two-room frame home was swept from its foundation and turned over on its side on Wood street. Mrs. Spurk was taken to Good Samaritan hospital for treatment for cuts and bruises. She was holding her baby in her lap when the home tumbled over. Mr. Spurk and an older child were unharmed but a three-year-old daughter, Mary, was pinned between a chair and the side of the home until she was rescued by neighbors. She was apparently unhurt. The family's furniture, a new electric refrigerator, electric washer, radio stoves and living room equipment were all dumped together when the house blew over.

When the residence of Budd Lisle of Harding Way West was struck by lightning during the storm, a radio burned and the wall and furniture were blackened with smoke. Mr. and Mrs. Lisle were not at home, but neighbors summoned the fire department. Chemicals were used to extinguish the blaze.

Almost at the same time the fire department was summoned to Parson street where lightning struck the shed that sheltered the hoist at the Hoekstra Coal & Supply. Damage to the machinery could not be estimated late last night, but the shed was burned.

City employes were kept busy most of the night repairing electric lines which were blown down by the storm.

CRESTLINE WITHOUT LIGHTS AS STORM RAGES

Special to the Star

CRESTLINE, July 13—The local fire department made a run to Berger's bakery during the severe wind and rain storm about 6:30 Monday night. An electric wire which was blown down struck the garage. No damage was done and the garage did not take fire.

Electric lights were out for some time. Water was high in many places, especially on Park road, Clink boulevard, Wiley and Pearl streets. Many homes were reported with water to first floor, telephone and electric wires and many trees and limbs were blown down with no serious damage reported.

The crest of the Sandusky river, swelled by the downpour at Crestline sent the river lapping against Bucyrus homes for the third time within a month. Officials said a flood stage would be reached there during the day.

RAINFALL BRINGS RELIEF TO MARION

Half an inch of rainfall last night and early this morning brought at least a temporary break in the heat wave which has gripped Marion and vicinity since a week ago today.

Local thundershowers are predicted for tonight and Wednesday in the official government forecast, although little change in temperatures is foreseen. The mercury reached a high of 93 here yesterday, equalling Sunday's maximum, and fell to a low of 67 last night. A year ago the maximum was 101, the low 73.

Dr. E. H. Raffensperger, government weather observer here, reported that the mercury had reached 82 degrees at noon, today.

Marion escaped damage from wind and electrical storms which struck Galion, Crestline and other points in Ohio. Rain fell at intervals during the night and light showers continued through this morning.

WIND WRECKS HOUSE AT BOWLING GREEN

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., July 13—The Dale Pettys home at Haskins, eight miles north, was wrecked and two barns were uprooted late yesterday by a high wind which accompanied a rain storm and damaged crops in the vicinity. The family was not at home during the storm.

WOMAN PROSTRATED BY HEAT AT KENTON

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., July 13—Recurring waves of heat today had resulted in the second heat prostration of the year here. Mrs. R. H. Hall of Williamstown collapsed on a downtown street Monday while shopping. She was revived by local police and then was taken to her home. Yesterday was the seventh consecutive day in which the mercury climbed to the 90's. Weatherman Frank R. Carey said. Intermittent showers failed to bring much relief.

STORM HITS SCATTERED SPOTS IN STATE

By The Associated Press

More showers were predicted for Ohio today following a break in the week-long heat wave by showers and electrical storms in spotted areas over the state.

At Cincinnati a number of residences and other buildings were struck by lightning and water backed up in sewers filling basements in suburban areas.

Mrs. Lorraine King Denning, wife of former Judge Clarence Denning and their son, Richard, 8, suffered minor injuries when their home was hit by a bolt.

At Mason, O., the principal tower at the plant of radio station WLW was struck and the station was off the air four minutes while fuses were being replaced.

Residents of Bellevue, O., feared continued rains might cause a repetition of a flood which two weeks ago caused damage unofficially estimated at $100,000.

As the water remained stationary in Bellevue streets at curb-level, city councilmen asked commissioners of four adjoining counties to help in surveying the drainage system of the entire area so as to prevent future floods.

BELLEVUE VISITED AGAIN BY FLOODS

By The Associated Press

BELLEVUE, O., July 13—This city of underground rivers struggled with additional flood waters today in the wake of a two-inch rain that overtaxed the drainage system just as the damage of a fortnight ago was being conquered.

Although not as severe as the previous deluge which damaged more than 300 homes and caused business to suspend for several days, the newest rain filled streets curb-deep with water and flooded scores of basements.

With pumps at work carrying off the burden the water remained stationary today.

The city council voted to request federal and state aid in rehabilitation and to seek the help of four surrounding counties—Huron, Erie, Seneca and Sandusky—in studying the drainage system.

RUSSIAN AIRMEN AGAIN CROSS POLE

p. m. EST yesterday) less than 24 hours after leaving Moscow.

Follow Countrymen's Trail

The airmen—Pilot Mikhail Gromoff, Co-Pilot Andrei Yumashieff, and Navigator Sergei Danilin—followed a trail blazed three weeks ago by three countrymen in a similar plane who flew 5,288 miles to Vancouver, Wash., where they landed with but 10 gallons of fuel.

The present flight, with San Francisco as the goal may end either here or at some other Pacific coast city, depending on the weather conditions and fuel consumption.

More than 5,000 feet in the air to escape snow and a cyclone area, the plane soared over the polar region and out across the bleak ice cap for the northern Canadian shores, 1,500 miles southward.

The fliers planned to follow a course along the 120th meridian, which would bring them across the central portion of the District of Mackenzie, along the eastern border of British Columbia, over central Washington and Oregon and into California.

Seek Distance Record

Before leaving Moscow, Pilot Gromoff said the flight's purpose was to "confirm again the possibility of regular communications intra-continentally by way of the pole," and to attempt breaking the non-stop distance record of 5,637 miles now held by he Frenchmen Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos.

It is approximately 6,000 miles by air line via the north pole from Moscow to San Francisco the goal of the first transpolar flight by Pilot Valeri Chekaloff, Co-Pilot Georgi Baibukoff, and Navigator Alexander Beliakoff. They took 63 hours and 17 minuts to reach Vancouver.

Pilot Gromoff's plane reached the pole in eight minutes under 24 hours compared to the 28 hours required by Chekaloff.

Officials of the National Aeronautical association estimated the earliest possible arrival time at 4 a. m. tomorrow, which would make a flight of approximately 60 hours.

and said in substance that a certain Mr. Darby had photostatic copies of my connection with a foreign personal holding company. I think he said in the Bahamas.

"Although I understand Mr. Darby has since denied that he has such copies, I would like to put a statement in the record that I neither now, or ever, have had any connection, directly, or indirectly with a foreign personal holding company."

The names of William Randolph Hearst, publisher, Jacob Ruppert, New York brewer and baseball magnate, and William S. Paley of New York, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., went into the records of the congressional tax inquiry committee today.

The names were mentioned by O. John Rogge, securities commission counsel borrowed by the treasury to aid in its investigation of methods by which wealthy persons have been able to reduce their income tax payments.

Rogge brought many well-known names into his testimony.

Among them was that of Albert Lasker of Chicago, president of Lord and Thomas, Inc., who, he said, dominated two holding companies which saved $197,053 in taxes from 1934 to 1936.

NEW AIR STRENGTH SHOWN AT MADRID

Government forces also pressed their attack on the Zaragozateruel front, east of Madrid.

FLEEING MAN SHOT BY POLICE OFFICER

continued to run after pausing momentarily.

In the meantime DeWees had taken up the chase in the police car and eventually caught up with Tong at Thompson and Evans street near the C. & O. railroad tracks.

They related that they drove around in that neighborhood for some time but saw no trace of Garey. Then they came back to the police station.

Makes Second Call

A short time later DeWees and Tong were on another call in the West Side, they said, and at 6:10 a. m. they returned to the Hughes residence to see if Garey might have returned.

As they stopped in front of the house Mrs. Hughes and a neighbor woman, whose name the police did not know, were standing at the side of the house. Mrs. Hughes told them, the officers said, that Garey was hiding behind an outhouse at the rear of the residence.

As Tong ran to the rear he saw Garey running toward the C. & O. tracks at the rear of the lot. He chased him for a short distance down the tracks.

"I called, 'Warren, stop!' Tong said (Garey also is known as Warren). He stopped and looked at me and then started to run again. I shot into the ground and again called to him to stop. He stopped and looked around and then kept on going and I shot into the ground again."

By this time Garey had left the tracks and was running eastward toward the Blake gardens.

Tong then related he had motioned to DeWees to take up the chase in the car.

DeWees said he drove east on West Fairground street, through the drive into the greenhouse to Blake avenue and then to Toledo avenue.

At this point DeWees saw Garey about 100 yards away running in a northeast direction across the vacant lots near the greenhouse.

Ordered to Stop

"I ran after him,' DeWees said 'and called to him to stop. He looked around but kept on going and I shot at his feet.

'He hesitated for a moment and crouched down behind some tall weeds. Just as he went behind the weeds I shot again.

'He ran about 15 feet and dropped to the ground. He was about 75 yards away then and when I got up to him he said he had been hit. This was about 6:30.'

About this time another Lee street resident, 'Shorty" Simpkins, drove past in an automobile. DeWees told him to call the police station and have an ambulance sent out.

The officers said the Curtis ambulance arrived a few minutes later and Garey was taken to the hospital.

The officers said no one witnessed the shooting and that it was not until about the time the ambulance arrived that the chase and shooting attracted any spectators. A few persons gathered around before the ambulance left, they said.

At the hospital DeWees and Tong called Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, the city physician, Chief Marks, Prosecutors Carhart and Michel, Dr. M. F. Axtheim of Caledonia, county coroner, who was at the hospital on a private call also was asked to make an examination of the wound. Dr. A. J. Willey was called when Garey asked for him.

Garey's Previous Arrests

The shooting this morning is the climax of Garey's eleventh brush with police over a period of three years. The filing of the non-support charge yesterday by Mrs. Garey also brought an angle to the controversy regarding the custody of the children which lately has come to the attention of the Marion County Humane society.

Police records show that Garey was last in municipal court last June 25 on a charge of intoxication. At this time he was fined $100 and costs but both were suspended on the condition that he take care of his family. It was at this time that the Humane society entered into the case. Both James E. Reed, attorney for the society, and Mrs. Garey were called into court to determine what arrangements were to be made for the care of the children.

It was then determined Mr. Reed said, that Mrs. Garey was to take the children to the home of her sister, Mrs. Russell Wallace of 820 Silver street. She has been there with the children lately.

Garey has had periodic employment lately on the extra section gang of the C. & O. Until lately, however, police reported he has been unemployed.

His name first appears on police records Oct. 18, 1934, when he was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was given a suspended fine of $50. On Dec. 29, 1934, he was arrested on a charge of petit larceny on railroad property and was fined $25 and costs.

On March 23, 1935, he was arrested on a charge of shoplifting from a five and ten cent store and was fined $25 and costs. Police records show he was accompanied by his wife and three children when arrested.

On Nov. 4 1935, he was fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving.

Another disorderly conduct charge appears against him on July 11, 1936. He was fined $15 and costs. On July 14, 1936, he was given a six-month sentence to the Columbus workhouse, with three months suspended, on a charge of assault and battery.

On Nov. 13, 1936, he was given another workhouse sentence on a charge of shooting up the Lee street neighborhood with a rifle. He was soon out, however, and on Dec. 31, 1936, was fined $100 and costs and given 60 days in the workhouse on a charge of chicken theft.

On March 25, 1937, he was again arrested as an escaped prisoner from the workhouse and was returned to Columbus by Sheriff Fred F. Miller.

This was his last appearance in court until last June when he was arrested on a charge of intoxication and released to take care of his family.

COTTON WINS WORLD GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

British Open Champion Defeats Denny Shute, 6 and 5, in England.

By The Associated Press

WALTON HEATH, Eng., July 13—Henry Cotton, British open golf champion, today defeated Denny Shute, United States P. G. A. titleholder, 6 and 5 in their 72-hole match for a purse of $2,500 and the unofficial "world championship."

After making the last turn with a four hole advantage, Cotton went dormie six by sinking 15 foot putts for birdies on the 66th and 66th holes. They halved the last hole with par fours.

The victory, following his sensational triumph in the British Open last week gave Cotton $2,000 of the purse. The other $500 went to Shute who never was in front after the half way mark. They entered the final 36 holes to-tie with Cotton leading by two holes.

On the 64th Shute hit a woman and then holed a stymie to gain a half and furnish the only laugh of the match.

The American hit a wild low hook from the tee which struck Mrs. R. A. Griffin of London. The ball didn't injure her but rolled in her skirt and stayed there until Shute arrived.

"Guess I'll have to use a hand mashie on that one," said Denny, laughing.

He then proceeded to hit the ball on the green and finally hopped a stymie to tie the last hole with a five.

PATROL HOLDS CHECK AT UPPER SANDUSKY

One Fined $25 on Drunken Driving Charge; 3 Others Cited After Survey.

An Upper Sandusky man was arrested for drunken driving, two commercial vehicle operators were cited for overloading and another driver was ordered to appear on a charge of driving with insufficient lights during a seven-hour traffic check conducted in Upper Sandusky from 9 last night until 4 o'clock this morning by highway patrolmen.

George Mott, 65, of Upper Sandusky, was arrested on the drunken driving charge. He was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty before Mayor Oscar Veith of that city. The truck drivers, Ralph Gable, 35, and Claude Dixon, 35, both of North Manchester, Ind., were given similar $25 fines when they pleaded guilty before Mayor Veith to charges of overloading. They were hauling tires exports from Mansfield to Chicago, Ill.

Charles McCleary, 38, of Upper Sandusky, cited for driving with insufficient lights was ordered to appear before Mayor Veith, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Officers halted 300 passenger cars and 100 commercial vehicles during the traffic check. H. W. Sowers, patrolmen in charge of the Marion substation, Patrolman H. H. Wilson and Sergeant J. C. Ulmer of Findlay, were in charge of the check.

BILL WOULD ASSURE AGE PENSION FUNDS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 13—A bill guaranteeing $17,500,000 yearly for the state old age pension fund was approved today by the house finance committee.

Prepared by Reps. George J. Harter, Democrat of Summit and W. H. Whetro, Democrat of Lawrence, the measure would utilize all of the liquor profits—estimated at $15,000,000 yearly—and take the remainder from the general revenue fund.

REQUESTS DEFEAT OF ROOSEVELT VETO

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13—The agriculture committee voted today to ask the house to override President Roosevelt's veto of legislation which would continue low interest rates on farm loans for two years.

The house was expected to vote shortly after noon.

Chairman Jones, Democrat of Texas, said the committee rejected a proposal to ask the house to refer the President's veto message to the committee so that it might attempt to work out a compromise with the White House.

'MYSTERY MAN' HELD

John Montague (above) whose feats on the golf course have been legendary around Hollywood, was arrested in Los Angeles under the name LaVerne Moore on a charge of compli ity in the robbery of a roadhouse at Jay, N. He was released under $10,000 pending further hearing and possible extradition.

LEGISLATURE ADOPTS STATE BUDGET BILL

finance committee said appropriations totalled $94,850,974 for the biennium, $47,367,158 being from the general revenue fund and the balance from income earmarked for specific purposes by previous laws.

Because the compromise bill was in a form substantially different from the executive budget requests, it was virtually impossible to make item by item comparisons. Anti-administration leaders claimed reductions totalling $5,500,000 but some legislators said the cuts would not prove that large.

The highly controversial employe transfer ban was inserted on insistence of the dominant senate group. Another hotly contested proposal, earmarking $1,000,000 for free text books in both parochial and public schools was dropped by the conferees.

Passage of the budget made it possible for the state to avoid a default on the July 15 payroll although it still was problematical whether necessary routine work could be completed in time for the governor to act on the measure before that date.

Partial appropriations made at the beginning of the regular session in January, technically expired July 1 and the state government has operated on credit since then. The regular session broke up in disagreement and failed to pass an appropriations bill.

The vote for adoption of the appropriations was nearly unanimous in both chambers. The senate voted 32 to 1 with only Sen. Lawrence A. Kane (Republican of Hamilton) dissenting and the house 110 to 2, Reps. Gus Kasch, Democrat of Summit and Lawrence H. Keller, Republican of Delaware, alone in the nay column.

The house passed an appropriation of $6,800,000 for highway construction in a separate measure and returned it to the senate for action on minor amendments. The lower chamber approved also and sent to the senate a $235,000 appropriation for 80 additional highway patrolmen but refused to make it an emergency measure to be effective immediately.

The house adopted emergency clauses for two laws, passed in the regular session providing for special elections on proposals to levy taxes outside the ten-mill limitation. The purpose, making the acts effective immediately, was to permit a vote on such levy proposals in the August primaries.

Dicky gave a low whistle of admiration

So you got me Calypso demanded gaily with a giggle

He looked her over judicially

No you got me he said solemnly First would do that I could take you over my knee and paper you till you'd look like a valentine from a sandpaper

Name for Her

How about me? Mrs Jones said demurely

He eyed his beloved stepdaughter speculatively

Sure thing apples to you he said You've had experience with the paren slipper—or you oughta have had—if you're as mischievously wary No that I'd put it past you if you thought you could get away with it But I know you couldn't And as for the Lady Fair in madame a courtly box—are a bit too much of a lady to label herself using such language That leaves only one female present and to be accounted for

Lillian His Match

Don't exert your brain too much his wife advised sweetly I am the one who said it Data my boy and I'll stick to it Just what do you intend to do about it?

She faced him belligerently hands on hips Her big husband with a twinkle in his eye took off an imaginary plumed hat and swept the floor with it in an obeisance that would have done credit to any romantic hero of an historical drama

I intend to thank you for the compliment light of my life he intoned The intimation that I have enough hair left so that I can be dragged by it is gratifying in the extreme but the fact that you are gratified from the bottom of my heart

This brought uproarious laughter from the youngsters for Harry Underwood's hair while well silvered shows no signs of thinning although his nearness to baldness is a favorite jade of his

If you two self fancied comedians are all through with your act Dicky drawled insolently may I remind you that we are supposed to keep out this evening?

Carolyn ran over to him and gave him a bear hug

You are the most wonderful man she exclaimed Our feet are just twitching for a dance and it's miles down to any place that's any fun We're going to that kind of place aren't we?

She put her head on one side and gazed up at him with the trustful expression of a child about to receive a coveted bonbon But though

FLAME TRAIL

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD

Marie de Nervaud)

Josh Hastings, owner of the Lazy Nine, tries to buy Kay Lane's ranch and barn burn. Kay refuses to court him, she is determined to keep her ranch and rebuild. Scrap Johnson, foreman here, but Ted Gaynor, a puncher she impulsively loves, her and whips him. Later they about it out, kiss each other. Hastings, afraid of such things, threatens to run Ted's gun. Ted runs to a shack where a girl seems to be Hastings escorts home one night, telling her about Ted.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

Don't Be A Fool!

"What's the hurry?" Josh Hastings pounded up beside her and reining over, put a possessive hand on her arm. "It's a mile and a half riding through a country at this pace! Slow down a bit—promise not to tell those sordid stories."

Kay's answer was to shake off his hand and urge Flicker on to greater speed.

Josh settled on Josh Hastings as he was forced by circumstances to follow suit. Flicker was a faster horse than his, and he had no more time for talking. If he was going to keep up.

Already, he was losing ground a bit, and as Kay glanced over her shoulder and saw him falling behind, a reckless spirit of mischief overcame her prudence.

She knew it was a silly thing to rouse his temper, but she couldn't resist the temptation to pay him back for telling her that story about Ted. Realizing perfectly that nothing was more galling to a man's pride than to be left behind by a girl, she deliberately pushed Flicker to the limit, and streaked ahead of him.

She had arrived at the corral, turned Flicker loose, and was just starting back to her cabin when he came pounding up.

He pulled up so sharply that his horse slipped to his haunches and almost went down. The next instant he was off, and before Kay could guess his intention, he seized her in his arms, and pressed his lips savagely to hers.

"That'll teach you not to play monkey tricks with me!" His voice was thick with rage and passion, as he held Kay's shoulders in an iron grip and bent his face close to her. "You'd better learn it now! Because I mean to marry you, you little spitfire!"

Regardless of Kay's blazing eyes, and her choked "Let me go" as she writhed in his grasp, he kissed her again. Then he sprang into his saddle and galloped off without a backward look.

Panting and trembling with fury, Kay watched him go, her mind seething with the outrage. It had all taken place so swiftly, that she could hardly believe it had happened at all.

With a gasp of disgust, she wiped the back of her hand across her lips, and clenched her fist as she gazed after the retreating figure in the moonlight.

Much as she had disliked Josh Hastings, she had never thought to be on her guard against an act like this! Why, he was old enough to be her father! She grabbed her handkerchief and scrubbed her lips as though to cleanse them of his polluting touch.

Marry him! A shudder ran through her, and a weak, helpless feeling of dread laid a cold clutch on her heart. Suddenly she felt utterly defenseless and alone. Who could she turn to? Aunt Kate and Babs were completely under Josh Hastings' spell, she could expect no help from them. And if Ted failed her—

Josh Hastings' insinuating story flashed in her mind, and in spite of her disbelief, she found herself going over it, bit by bit.

Even if the worst implications about the girl were false, Ted had probably been involved in some sort of affair with her. And there was that other rumor about the dark haired girl he had fought over, that very day when he had later come so splendidly to her rescue—

Kay straightened up suddenly and walked quickly back to the cabin, her head proudly high, though her breath still came in quick, uneven jerks. It was certainly nothing to her how many girls Ted had! All she wanted him to come back for was to rebuild her house and barn for her!

Memory of Josh Hastings' kiss flashed over her again, and running up the steps of her cabin, she hastily lit a candle and hung herself down at her father's desk. Something in its very solidity, and the long rations that clung to it gave her a truly comforting sense of strength.

"He thinks he's going to marry me, does he?" Kay savagely pulled open a drawer and took out a sheet of note paper. "We'll see about that!"

She scribbled a note to Aunt Kate, saying that she was going to send over for them the next afternoon. They could have her cabin and she could sleep outside in her sleeping bag. Signing it without further explanation she left it on her desk so that she could give it to one of the boys to take over the first thing in the morning. Then, with the same feverish haste, she undressed and flung herself into bed.

After a restless night of both waking and sleeping nightmares, Kay was out at the crack of dawn, and over at the bunk house with her note.

After she had actually dispatched Shorty with the summons to her family to leave the Flying Six, she felt better, and by the time breakfast was over, she had persuaded herself that Josh Hastings had made up that story out of whole cloth, for the sole purpose of damaging Ted in her eyes.

"When Ted comes back I'm going to tell him the whole thing," she resolved as she made her way over to the bunk house to consult Seth about getting another cot put up in her cabin for Babs.

It was nearly 10 o'clock before Shorty came back from the Flying Six. Kay hastily tore open the note he handed her and frowned in her aunt's cramped old fashioned handwriting. A slow color rose in her cheeks as she read it through and then started it over again.

She was suddenly aware of Shorty's eyes on her. Biting her lip to steady herself she looked up at him.

"Thanks, Shorty. There isn't any answer." She turned away with the note clenched in her hand, and ran down to her cabin. Seated at the desk she spread it out before her and incredulously read its surprising contents again.

Dear Kay:

Don't be a fool! You're not the first girl to be kissed on a moonlight night! Josh Hastings has told me all about it, and his generous and honorable intentions toward you.

I certainly have no files of coming back until the house is finished. You can insist on Babs coming but you'll be pulling a hornet's nest about your ears if you do.

I say again—don't be a fool!

Your affectionate
AUNT KATE

Kay drew a long quivering breath as she settled back and gazed at the door, where some flies buzzed drowsily in the heat. Suddenly, one of them brushed against a cobweb and became more and more enmeshed as it tried to get away.

With an impulsive movement, Kay jumped up and put a finger through the web, thus setting the fly free.

"If only someone would do that for me!" she murmured, as she settled down and read Aunt Kate's letter again. Forcing herself not to let her judgment be influenced by her indignation, she tried to consider it calmly.

What Aunt Kate said about Babs was perfectly true. Kay realized that she hadn't any too firm a hold over Babs' headstrong and self-willed nature. And if she insisted on her coming back in the face of Aunt Kate's determination to stay, life wouldn't be worth living.

Viewed in the light of Aunt Kate's scornful "don't-be-a-fool", it did seem ridiculous to make such a fuss about a moonlight kiss. And by forestalling her, and telling Aunt Kate about it, and his desire to marry her, Josh Hastings had cut most of the ground for righteous indignation from under her feet.

There just didn't seem any way to fight this insidious move of Josh Hastings, to get her family under his influence and lined up against her.

She could tell Aunt Kate about his plot to get her timberland away from her. But that would involve telling the whole beastly experience with Scrap Johnson, and Kay had none too much confidence in her aunt's discretion to want to trust her with that story.

Besides, she'd probably explain away Josh Hastings' part in it by saying that he'd been trying to protect her from making a foolish move.

As long as she was caught in the trap, she might as well accept it gracefully. To have Babs at home, in a rebellious mood, when there was so much to be done, would be anything but a help. And to put such tragic emphasis on a kiss snatched in the moonlight, was to magnify the importance of it out of all proportion.

Reluctantly admitting that perhaps she had been a fool to be quite so hasty and dramatic about it, Kay crunched up the note, and threw it into the waste-basket.

The sheriff brings Ted's gun to the Lazy Nine, tomorrow, for Kay to identify.

Surviving are the widow, three daughters and four sons and a brother. Funeral services will be held at the late home at 2 p. m. Wednesday with burial in Fairview cemetery.

MOTORIST CITED

Ada Sevilla, 28, of near Fredericktown was cited last night at 5 o'clock for disregarding a stop sign at the junction of routes 4 and 23 north of Marion, by highway patrolmen from the substation here. He posted bond of $14.70 for appearance in municipal court this morning. The bond was ordered forfeited when he did not appear.

A portable machine has been invented that makes bricks from locally obtained materials at low cost at the site of residence building operations.

VARIETY OF TALENTS IN JOB-SEEKERS' LIST HERE

Detective, Ministers and Even a "Heeler" Register With Employment Bureau.

A detective two ministers and a son [illegible] heeler' are among the job seekers listed on the rolls of the Marion office of the state employment service, it was revealed, with just a trace of surprise today by officials in charge of the local headquarters. Workers listed under the various classifications do not necessarily expect the service to find them employment in their chosen field of endeavor but are listed as desiring employment in various trades.

The detective who is listed in the files here and has also been trained in fingerprint work now desires employment but not necessarily as a detective.

Consolidation of smaller churches was given as the most logical rea[illegible]

If you have need for a good bartender to mix a cool refreshing drink one of the plastering trades you may find a likely candidate in the seven who are listed on the employment office rolls. Truck drivers clerical workers and salesmen comprise the largest groups of workers listed in the files with the exception of the manual labor group.

Among the persons who are registered with the employment office are 20 musicians a sleight of hand and high flyer for events in the air three commercial and one portrait artist a half dozen lawyers an auctioneer several chauffeurs and a number of cooks for hot roasts and pie [illegible] for hamburg alleys.

That a similar situation exists throughout state employment offices was revealed in an Associated Press report from Columbus. In the state the dispatch reported 74 attorneys 16 physicians 14 dentists 264 musicians 500 teachers 10 animal trainers and 50 undertakers are listed on the rolls as job seekers.

ASKS $7,500 DAMAGES IN FATAL ACCIDENT

R. M. Cheney Named Defendant in Suit Brought for Estate

Robert M. Cheney of 313 North State street is named defendant in a $7,500 damage action filed in common pleas court yesterday by Beulah Leeper administratrix of the estate of Virgil A. Kern Ames Jr. who died of injuries alleged suffered in an automobile accident on June 8, 1936.

The petition states Mrs. Ames was riding in a car driven by Harold Dickerson when it was sideswiped by a half ton pick up truck driven by Cheney. The accident occurred two and one half miles south of Marion on U. S. route 23.

The car overturned twice and upset causing injuries to Mrs. Ames from which she died four days later, the petition alleges. The plaintiff is represented by Frank W. Warady of Cleveland and J. D. Williamson of Marion.

Settlement Approved

An entry authorizing S. H. Squire state superintendent of banks to accept $2,900 in settlement of a note and for release of a mortgage was made in common pleas court by Judge Hector S. Young yesterday. The note and mortgage were held by the Marion Savings bank which the state banking department is liquidating and were involved in an action brought by Squire against Elias F. Patton and Margaret E. Patton. The note had an unpaid balance of $2,900 plus interest at eight per cent from Oct. 18, 1930.

Foreclosure Action

A petition seeking judgment of $743.51 against Alfred Brady and others was filed in common pleas court yesterday by the Crawford Finance Co. represented by J. D. Williamson and Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery. Sale of lot No. [illegible] in Charlotte Beavers first add. on to the village of Morral also is sought.

State Answers Suit

The State of Ohio yesterday filed an answer and cross petition in common pleas court in the action of the Crawford Finance Co. against the Jones Realty Co. The state asserts the realty company is indebted to it for $45.08 for the 1932 franchise plus a 15 per cent penalty and concurs in asking for foreclosure and sale of the property involved in the finance company's action. The answer was filed by Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel representing the state.

Judgment Asked

Judgment of $1,798.50 foreclosure and sale of part of lot No. 1891 in the first Showalter addition to the city is sought by the Home Owners Loan corporation in an action filed yesterday in common pleas court against Victor Berry and others. Sylvester Larkin represents the corporation.

Divorce Actions

Petition filed by Chester F. Berry against Grace Berry, seeking divorce, custody of three minor children to be determined by the court, grounds gross neglect and extreme cruelty. Homer E. Johnson representing Berry.

Answer and cross-petition filed by Albert Simpkins in action brought against him by Edna Mildred Simpkins, denies plaintiff's charges and seeks a decree of her petition seeks divorce and custody of three minor children, grounds gross neglect and extreme cruelty. James E. Reed representing Simpkins.

Judgment for $32.93.43 on a note and mortgage given in 1929 on 40 lots in Brightwood addition is sought by the Marion Federal Savings & Loan Co. in an answer and cross-petition filed yesterday afternoon in common pleas court.

The judgment is sought from the Lee Jacque Architecture Co. previously named defendant in an action brought by Homer D. Cole county treasurer. The answer and cross-petition were filed in connection with the previous suit.

The loan company in its answer claims it holds a $25,000 note given on April 2, 1929 by Ruth P. Hummer, Theodosia M. Hummer and Genevieve Hummer on 40 lots and one half of another lot in Brightwood addition. The property later was conveyed to the architecture company in a warranty deed six and one half lots being released from the note the loan company says. Sale of the real estate also is sought. Henry A. Mickle, represents the loan company.

Foreclosure Asked

Foreclosure and sale of real estate and judgment for $3,222.35 is sought by the Home Owners Loan corporation in a suit filed yesterday afternoon in common pleas court against George W. Moore and others. The property is described a lot No. 9152 in the Oakland Heights addition. The corporation also seeks the appointment of a receiver to take possession and control of the property. Sylvester Larkin represents the corporation.

Tax Figure Set

A figure of $231.55 claimed by W. Dexter Hazen executor of the estate of Charles F. Gano as the amount of inheritance tax that should be paid by the estate was found correct by Judge Hector S. Young in an entry filed yesterday in common pleas court.

A tax of $650.15 had been sought by County treasurer Homer H. Cole in an action against Hazen as executor. The difference in the amounts arose from the difference in the face and actual values of building and loan company stock which made up the bulk of the estate. The stock had been appraised at its face value of $12,557.70 and Hazen sought to have the tax based on the actual value of the stock which was placed at $11,817.92.

CHARLES WHITE, 45, DIES AT HOME HERE

Had Been Ill Since January, Was Brick and Stone Mason.

Charles White 45 died at 11:05 a. m. today at his home at 915 Bennett street. He had been ill since January when he was stricken with flu and pneumonia.

Mr. White was born June 1, 1892 in Marion to Clement V. and Susien Hopkins White natives of Union county. He was a brick and stone mason.

Surviving with his mother who lives at 915 Bennett street are his widow who was formerly Velva Beamer, two children Alfred and Juanita at home, a sister Martha, living in Michigan and three brothers Harold and Jesse of Toledo and Forrest White at home.

The body may be viewed Wednesday at the Gunder funeral home on West Center street. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

PLANS MOVE AHEAD FOR ANNUAL RACING REGATTA

Legion and 40 et 8 Committees Meet. See Attendance of 10,000 for July 25 Event on Scioto

More than 1,000 tickets have been sold for the second annual boat regatta to be held July 25 at the mouth of Swamp creek on the Scioto river. P. C. Shane ticket committee chairman announced last night at a meeting of committees of the American Legion and the 40 et 8 soviete at the D. goal. E. H. Slade general chairman for the race presided.

The event is being sponsored by the veterans to raise funds for the construction of the box car and locomotive for a trip to New York for a convention later this year.

Advance Ticket Sale

Tickets are being sold in advance of the race this year at substantially lower prices than they will be the day of the race in an effort to obtain funds to meet preliminary expenses. They are on sale at Marquet & Lewis Beaver & Hudson Bartlett's drug store and from any Legion or 40 et 8 member. Pat Dugan assisting in arrangements said it is expected 10,000 tickets will be sold.

He reported he is receiving numerous requests from prominent racers members of the Mid East Outboard Racing association. Among them are Jack Wood of Detroit who raced here last year, Bernard Weaver of Fort Wayne, R. M. Young of Fort Wayne and Jimmy Altman of New Kensington, Pa. national Class C champion. A total of 25 boats are expected to be entered as compared with 30 last year. The race is sanctioned by the association.

Reports Given

Last night E. J. Harrold advertising chairman gave a favorable re[illegible] ...port. Ed Solomon traffic chairman said the state highway department will close the highway from Wilson's Beach to the Scioto bridge [illegible] ...Boaters will close the area [illegible] ...during the time the [illegible] ...are cleaning the river and [illegible] ...trees this week.

Mr. Dugan said since the [illegible] ...has been enabled to rough [illegible] ...bridge a spectators will be [illegible] ...to see both turns.

Two events are scheduled [illegible] ...including one for [illegible] ...county boats only and a free [illegible] ...for all boats.

The committee will meet [illegible] ...Monday night to make [illegible] ...arrangements.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, July 14

A VERY active and lively day is presaged from important solar and lunar directions, although each enterprise may be in the form of cultural, social, affectional, intriguing or mystical vocations or avocations. An element of the secretive, mysterious and discover seems to pervade all affairs, with sentimental, emotional or romantic urges dominant.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the threshold of an interesting and rather peculiar year, with the subtle, secretive and mystifying entering into practical affairs. All creative faculties are under stimuli for accomplishment, although probably in a quiet, serious way. Romantic, sentimental or artistic affiliations contribute to progress and prosperity. Much happiness is found.

A child born on this day may have very practical as well as unusually artistic creative faculties and talents. Love of beauty and the subtler and finer things of life are paramount, with sentimental, emotional and romantic or spiritual urges contributing to its practical success and good fortune.

Marion To Play Mansfield Today, Fremont Tomorrow

MARION NINE OWNER EXPLAINS STAND ON UMPS CONTROVERSY

R. R. Thompson Answers Statements of Press Critic Latest Squabble.

An Ohio State league "tempest in a teapot outgrowth of accusations hurled by Dick Behr, sports editor of the Fremont Messenger, in connection with circuit officiating and directed at the Marion club's owner, R. R. Thompson, and Manager Chapple Geygan, was simmered down here today by Thompson.

The affair began last Monday night at a meeting of circuit officials in Tiffin, after Harry "Squeaky" Miller, resigned as a league umpire, when informed by Prexy Harry Smith that his chances of advancing beyond the Class D rating were unlikely because of his small stature. For this reason Smith advised Miller to find other employment if possible, but did not tell him he was through in the Ohio State loop.

Smith, however, went so far as to assure Miller that even though he found other employment, he could still umpire in the Sunday doubleheaders if he desired. Miller requested his release and was granted it, following the reported exchange of understandings, between him and the circuit head. Sports Editor Behr is credited with starting the verbal rumpus when he wrote: "The first story was that three clubs had voted against retaining Miller, while the other three favored keeping him.... Smith listened to Thompson, Geygan & Co., and then gave Miller his walking papers."

Thompson's Answer

Thompson today had this to say. "Personally I didn't have a thing against Umpire Miller, and it is entirely without grounds that either myself or Manager Geygan be accused of being responsible for Millers' resignation. In my opinion, however, Miller didn't rate very highly as a league official, mainly because of his small stature, his personality on the field and his voice," Thompson added.

"Big league scouts who have been visiting Ohio State league games during the past weeks have pointed out consistently that our games have been the fastest Class D baseball they witnessed this season and last," Thompson went on, "and there's no reason why we shouldn't be working every minute to keep our officiating on a par with the playing. It's heartbreaking enough for these youngsters, who are earning their bread and butter, and attempting to go someplace in organized baseball, without subjecting them to the ruth-

(—GB—Games behind leader).

Romping to a 15 to 2 victory over the Epworth Bishops last night on the Marion Steam Shovel diamond, the pennant-bound St. Mary aggregation annexed its seventh consecutive victory. The Parochial team holds undisputed first place in the No. 2 Sunday School league by a full two-game lead, as the result of its seven wins in as many starts.

Wesley No. 2, the league-leaders nearest rival, was defeated 6 to 2 by the Greenwood Evangelical club on President field last night. The win was the second in seven games for the victors. For the second time in as many weeks, Christian's loop entry forfeited its scheduled game. Last night the Lutherans received the benefit of the forfeit and added their fourth win in seven starts without being required to take the field.

It is likely, in view of the fact that the Christian team has already forfeited two games, that the No. 2 league will finish out the remainder of the summer playing schedule as a five-team loop. After forfeiting a game, the offending team must apply to the softball commission for permission before resuming its schedule. Softball officials reported last night that they had not been contacted by members of the Christian team, and it appears that Christian will make no effort to continue its participation in the league.

The scores by innings follow:

Greenwood	200 220 0	6	5 0
Wesley	003 000 1	4	5 1

Ingram and Donaugh; B. Lashey and Murphy.

Epworth Bishops	200 000 0	2	5 1

CLUB'S CHANCES FOR PENNANT IMPROVE WITH ROSTER SHIFTS

New Fielder Looms as Find for Geyganites; Injured Hurler Picks Up.

Four and one-half games out of first place, Marion's scrappy Ohio State league baseball team, will be in action in six scheduled games until next Monday, two of the contests being played on the home lot at Lincoln park stadium, and the remaining four scheduled for foreign diamonds, including a doubleheader away from home next Sunday.

Manager Chapple Geygan's charges this morning were preparing a warm reception for the pace-setting Mansfield Red Sox, who were booked to visit Lincoln park for a game at 5:30 this afternoon. The only other home appearance of the team this week is set for tomorrow afternoon, when the Fremont Reds return to the Lincoln diamond. Fremont's most recent visit here, in a doubleheader last Saturday, resulted in the teams dividing honors.

Ladies' Day Today

Today at Lincoln park, as on all Tuesday and Friday afternoons when the Marion team is playing at home, women are invited to be guests of the management. The Ladies' Day observance will continue throughout the summer on the two-days-a-week basis, while each Thursday afternoon, youngsters, who are members of the Knot-Hole-Gang are admitted without charge.

With the addition of Harvey Ender, 18 year-old Columbus youth, to Marion's outfield and the fact that several incidents of importance in connection with the pitching staff have occurred recently, Marion's club appears about ready to open up its attack to regain the circuit top spot. Ender, who pulled the most sensational play of Sunday's twin bill when he pulled down Kraus' long hit in left-center, is expected to add materially to Marion's hitting prowess.

Ender was previously a member of the Columbus Bolt Works team in the Saturday afternoon league in the capital city. During his experience with them, he led the league with a batting average of .478. Most of his blngles go for doubles, but the youngster doesn't have any particular spot where he likes to hit them. Standing up to the plate with the stance of a veteran the youth cracks the ball equally well in either field.

Find Cause of Slump

Marion's mound staff received a setback some six weeks ago when Gene Morris, the lanky Moberly, Mo., hurler, went into the depths of an unexplainable slump. Saturday afternoon Morris learned what may have been the cause of it all. Complaining slightly of a sore back where he pitched in Saturday's second game, he was given medical attention, and it was found that two of his lower ribs were out of place. After receiving treatment, Morris took on a more confident attitude, and although he has been ordered to remain idle until Thursday, he is eager to see pitching service.

Other games today in the league will find Findlay at Tiffin, Fremont at Fostoria while Wednesday, in addition to Marion entertaining Fremont, Mansfield will invade the Fostoria park and Tiffin will go to Findlay.

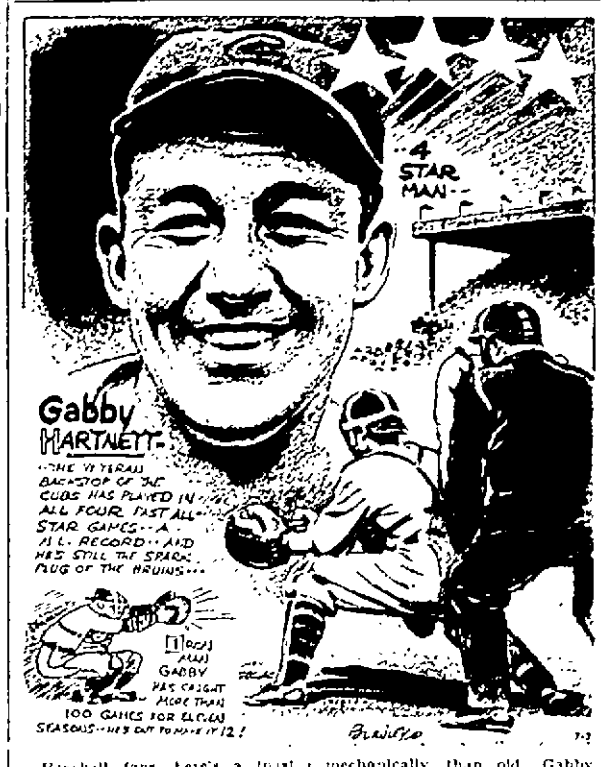
Gabby—A Chicago Landmark



4 STAR MAN
Gabby HARTNETT
ONE VETERAN BACKSTOP OF THE CUBS HAS PLAYED IN ALL FOUR FAST ALL-STAR GAMES--A N.L. RECORD--AND HAS STILL THE SPARK PLUG OF THE BRUINS...
GABBY HAS CAUGHT MORE THAN 100 GAMES FOR ELEVEN SEASONS--HE'S OUT TO MAKE IT 12!
Brisko

Baseball fans, here's a toast to good old Gabby Hartnett, just about the best backstop of modern baseball history.

Year in and year out, the Gabby one has been the spark-plug of the Chicago Cubs, doing heavy duty behind the plate and driving home many a run with his big bludgeon.

Hartnett holds the distinction of being the only National Leaguer who has played in all four of the past All-Star games—a notable tribute to a really great catcher.

There may be better backstops, mechanically, than old Gabby, since he has slowed up considerably with the years, but in sheer value to a team, he outranks 'em all, even today.

His record of having caught more than 100 games for 11 seasons—the last seven of them in a row—is unsurpassed by any receiver in his league.

Hartnett is a real Chicago landmark, having played with the Cubs during his entire major league career. He is a hero in the Windy City, and there is no more popular player in the senior loop.

"Just As Good As Ever" Says Optimistic Feller

BY BOB HILLIGAN

CHICAGO, July 13—Bob Feller, the 18-year-old Cleveland Indian hurler who blazed a strikeout trail across the baseball horizon in 1936 and then injured his arm this season, is convinced he's just as good as ever, notwithstanding his current record of three defeats and no victories.

He lost his third game last Sunday to Detroit, 3 to 2, even though he allowed only two hits.

"I'll get the breaks soon," he smiled, "and I'm far from discouraged over losing those games even though I'd have liked to won them. But if I could go out and pitch like I did against Detroit Sunday, I'd win 25 games a season.

"I've been relying mainly on my fast ball, and my arm feels just as good as ever. My curve is getting better—when its right I think it's as good a curve as any pitcher has in the league—and I'm sure that I'll start winning soon. I'm not trying to fan every batter. If I can fan them with men on bases I'll be satisfied."

The Feller case has been baseball's most intriguing mystery of recent years. When he injured his arm pitching against St. Louis April 21, the experts took sides. Some said he was through for good, others that he wouldn't pitch again until 1938. Starting against Detroit at Cleveland, he allowed one hit in four innings, but the Tigers got three unearned runs off him and won a seven-inning game, 3 to 2.

At Detroit Sunday he walked six and made one wild pitch, but he isn't blaming the passes so much as he does one ball he threw to Gerald Walker.

"In the sixth, with one out, I walked three men," he said. "I fanned Greenberg with my fast ball and had two strikes and one ball on Walker. Then I made the mistake of trying a slow curve and wild-pitched a runner home. After that, with the damage done, I fanned Walker. But there'll be other days—and as I said, my curve is getting better."

BROADWAY WINS, 11-1

MARYSVILLE, July 13—By a score of 11 to 1 Broadway Independents defeated Worthington's baseball team Sunday afternoon at Pottersburg. Marsh pitched a steady game for Broadway and held the visitors to three hits. They never scored after the first inning. The Marion Colored Athletics scheduled to play at Broadwey next Sunday afternoon.

SCHUMACHER SLUMP PROVES MYSTERY AS GIANTS LOSE AGAIN

Phillies Take Terrymen, 6-3; Indians, Reds, Cubs, White Sox Rained Out.

BY BILL BONI

From a whistling light to a feeble flicker in two short seasons—that's the strange, sad story of Hal Schumacher.

In 1933, his first full season with the New York Giants, Schumie won 19 games. The following year, he chalked up 23. Two years ago it was 19 again.

He was nick-named "Prince Hal," as likeliest successor to the crown worn by "King Carl" Hubbell.

Today, with little more than half the season spent, the big right-hander from Dolgeville, N. Y., is in a terrific nose-dive. Sixteen times he has been sent into action as Bill Terry's starting pitcher. On all but three occasions—the last on June 1, when he hurled a 10-hitter to whip the Dodgers—he has failed to finish.

He failed again yesterday, against the Phillies, a club the Giants had beaten in six out of nine games. Schumie, pulled out of a bad hole by a Mel Ott-initiated triple play in the first inning, dropped out of sight in the seventh. When he heard out he had put on base five of the six runs the Phils scored in that inning to win the ball game by 6 to 3.

The defeat cost the Giants a chance to draw up virtually on even terms with the rained-out Chicago Cubs.

A happier figure than Schumacher is the irrepressible Joe Medwick. That Gas House Gangster who leads the league in everything but triples, stolen bases and, of course, pitching, pounded out three more hits and drove in three more runs as the St. Louis Cardinals nosed out the Pirates, 6 to 5.

The Cubs' night game in Cincinnati was rained out, as were the Bees-Dodger date in Brooklyn and the only American league game scheduled, between the Indians and White Sox at Chicago.

Meanwhile, the Reds released Jimmy Outlaw and Arnold Moeser to Syracuse on option.

RAIN WASHES OUT SHOVEL MAT SHOW

Promoters Plan New Battles for Next Week.

Rain dampened the spirits of a crowd gathered to witness the weekly wrestling show scheduled for the outdoor arena on Unaspher avenue, last night when it became necessary to cancel the card. Usually when inclement weather prevails, the bouts are moved to the Marion Steam Shovel gymnasium, but last night it became impractical when all the equipment was set up and ready at the open air arena.

Last night was the first time in recent years that a grapple card has been completely washed out by the weatherman, the bouts being moved inside earlier in the day when the weather was threatening. Local promoters announced after the card was cancelled that the identical setup, with six husky grapplers tangling in a battle royal, will be booked next week. Efforts are being made to schedule the same half-dozen wrestlers for the gang fight.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

JOE MEDWICK and SI JOHNSON, Cardinal—Former got three hits, one a double, and batted in three runs in 6-5 defeat of Pirates last night. Johnson, relief pitcher, was credited with [illegible] win.

WAYNE LAMASTER, Phillies—Held Giants to six hits and two runs before he was relieved in eighth inning and earned credit for 6-3 victory.

RED BIRDS SLIDE INTO TIE FOR FIRST WITH MINNEAPOLIS

Columbus Idle While Millers Win, Drop One-Day Lead in Loop.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 13—Minneapolis was in a tie with Columbus for the American association leadership today, thanks to the weather and some early-inning punch at the plate.

The Millers snapped their losing streak last night by defeating Milwaukee, 8 to 6. With Columbus and Louisville rained out, the victory sent the Millers into a tie with the Red Birds, each now having won 47 and lost 30.

The Millers had to withstand a late rally by the Brewers to get their triumph. After leading 7 to 1 and going into the last of the seventh, the Kels watched the champions score once in that inning, another marker in the eighth and three in the ninth.

The Brewers collected 10 hits off Henry, who went the route.

Kansas City evened its series with St. Paul by defeating the Saints 4 to 2 in the only game of the night. The game was called in the sixth because of rain. The Blues drove in all their runs in the third on two singles, a walk and doubles by Rocek and Ostrowski.

The fourth scheduled game of yesterday's program, between Toledo and Indianapolis, was postponed because of rain.

GAME AT NEWARK

Drake's Tavern softball aggregation is scheduled to travel to Newark tonight to engage the Pure Oil team in a game on Dieris field in that city. Either Francis Robbins or Maurie Whitcum will handle the pitching assignment for the Tavern club.

EXPLAINS STAND ON UMPS CONTROVERSY

...lessness of incompetent umpires," Thompson added.

Thompson, in a luncheon interview, went on to make several remarks which may be of special interest to followers of the Marion club. In answer to Behr's columning that, "one of the greatest obstacles has been Chapple Geygan of Marion, as nice a fellow as one would care to meet off the playing field, but a big pain in the neck on the diamond," Thompson had this to say, "Geygan is paid to put a winning ball club on the field and to keep those youngsters scrapping every inch of the way, and I leave to his own good judgment any controversies which come up on the playing field."

Marion Draws Fans

"The statement of Behr that Fremont fans are staying away from Marion's games in Fremont, is without grounds, when reports from all league cities indicate that Marion is the best drawing opponent in the circuit," Thompson said.

Of Geygan's ability at the helm of Marion's diamond aggregation, the owner of the team, his boss, had this to offer, "Geygan, in my estimation, is on his way up as a baseball manager. He may not get the opportunity this year, or even next, but I predict a brilliant future for him in a managerial capacity."

Well, that's that, and while the tempest rages on, Marion fans, from remarks being passed around, consider themselves fortunate in having a team in the Ohio State circuit, especially a top notch aggregation.

LEGION'S JR. NINE BOOKS JULY GAMES

Marion's Junior Legion baseball team, eliminated from district tournament competition will be busy playing home and practice games with other aggregations from surrounding counties if present plans of officials materialize. Efforts are being made to arrange an eight-game July schedule for the Marion club, it was announced today by Manager Walter E. Hare.

Although the contests are booked only tentatively, here is the schedule for July as it has been arranged up to the present time. At Ada July 14, at Kenton July 15, Franklin Post team No. 1 of Columbus at Marion July 16, at Richwood July 17, Newark at Marion July 19, Marion at Columbus July 21, Ada at Marion July 23 and Marion at Newark July 24.

MARYSVILLE BEATS UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, July 13 — The Upper Sandusky golf team defeated the Marysville Country club team, 20 to 28, in a match played on the local course. The next match will be played on July 21 here between the local team and London.

GALION INFANT DIES

GALION, July 13—Lester Edward Lutz, five months, died Monday afternoon at 5:25 o'clock at the Good Samaritan hospital of pneumonia. The baby had been ill three days. He was born Feb 11, 1937, to William and Helen (Randall) Lutz. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Snyder funeral home.

CITY PARKS READY FOR USE OF PUBLIC

Picnic Grounds for Day and Night Prepared; Garden Beautified.

"Enjoy your parks" was the cordial invitation of the city park commission this morning.

Picnic grounds in all the parks have been put in "A-No 1" condition, W. P. Gass, president of the commission said this morning, and it is the hope of the commission that the public will make use of them.

Families, lodges, social, church and civic organizations are urged to avail themselves of the grounds.

Each park is equipped now with at least one Dutch oven for outdoor cooking and tables and benches are plentiful. The tables and benches are free at all parks unless arrangements to reserve them have been made with the caretaker, in which case there is a small charge.

Lights for night picnickers have been provided at all grounds. Groups planning on night picnics when lights will be needed, should advise the caretaker, Mr. Case said.

At McKinley park the rock garden which was a beauty spot in Marion several years ago but not tended for several years, has been rehabilitied and water was expected to run over the falls this afternoon. The work of cleaning up the rock garden and returning it to its former beauty required seven men for three days.

Organizations and family groups wishing to take advantage of the grounds for afternoon picnics will have a further convenience offered them in playground supervisors who will watch over children in the party. Arrangements to have the playground supervisors on duty were made by the commission in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. for Lincoln and McKinley parks.

POCAHONTAS LODGE INSTALLS OFFICERS

Mrs. Annabelle Layton was installed as Pocahontas of Minnetonka Council No. 24, Degree of Pocahontas, in impressive ceremonies last night at the Junior Order hall. She replaces Mrs. Laura Eaton for whom an honor lunch was served by the social committee. Mrs. Rose Seiter was installing deputy.

Other officers installed were: Mrs. Laura Straw, Winona; Mrs. Ida McColly, Powhattan; Mrs. Laura Eaton, prophetess; Mrs. Nellie Rowland, first scout; Mrs. Leona Bishop, second scout; Mrs. Edith Redd, Mrs. Gera Griffith, Mrs. Margaret Russell and Mrs. Clara Moore, warriors; Mrs. Mayme Fowler and Mrs. Martha Roberts, runners; Mrs. Daisy Hallenbaco and Mrs. Emma Criswell, councilors; Mrs. Ellen Poland, guard of the teepee; Mrs. Hazel Thomasson, guard of the forest; Mrs. Ada Keeler and Mrs. Rose Seiter, flag bearers.

Mrs. A. E. Van Asbeck, keeper of the records; Mrs. Helen O'Brien Johnson, keeper of wampum; Mrs. Mollie Aldrich, collector of wampum; Mrs. Ida Uncapher, pianist. Steel corporation plant.

Committee chairmen named were Mrs. Uncapher, entertainment, and Mrs. Leona Bishop, social. A miscellaneous shower was given for Mrs. Johnson, a recent bride. The next meeting will be featured by a demonstration supper at 7:30 p. m. on July 26.

BURGLAR ENTERS RESTAURANT HERE

The Stop Light restaurant at 423 West Center street was burglarized last night by an intruder who netted a loot of $2.50 in pennies and contents of a vending machine according to a police report. It was not learned what amount of money was taken from the machine. Entrance was made through a rear window after the intruder had apparently climbed on the roof of a shed to reach the window. Mrs. Fern Cookston, operator of the restaurant, discovered the burglary at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

CARS IN COLLISION

Delbert Collins of 866 Wilson avenue reported to police that while driving north on Uncapher avenue last night about 8:30 o'clock his car and another driven from the Marion Steam Shovel athletic field to Uncapher avenue, collided. The left front fender of Collin's car and the right front fender of the other car were damaged. Police did not learn the name of the other driver.

PICNIC ARRANGED BY SALVATION ARMY

125 Mothers and Children To Attend Meeting

Plans have been completed for the annual Salvation Army picnic to be held Wednesday at Sugar Grove lake, Captain Rothwell Stickley announced today.

Approximately 125 mothers and children will be guests of the Army at a picnic dinner and a program of sports including a baseball game, swimming and other recreational activities.

Busses for the picnic ground will leave the Salvation Army hall at 403 West Center street, promptly at 9 a. m., and "all we ask is that every one be on time," Captain Stickley said.

The table committee is composed of Mrs. Rothwell Stickley, Mrs. H. Danner, Mrs. L. Lope, Mrs. A. Hayes and Mrs. P. Little, and the sports program will be in charge of Virgil Smith and Rothwell Stickley. Transportation is being arranged by Captain Stickley.

SENATOR CRITICIZES AIM OF COURT BILL

...ministration fight for the bill. He will be the first spokesman for the measure since last Thursday.

Forecasts of a court bill showdown in 20 days or two weeks came today from some senators on both sides.

Opposition leaders declaring they had 44 certain votes and a half dozen others "within reach" said there was no need for a filibuster.

"We can win without it," commented Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana at the start of the fourth day's attack on the controversial measure.

Administration officials on the other hand, stuck by their contention that they had enough votes to pass the compromise bill. It authorizes appointment of one additional supreme court justice each year if members over 75 do not retire.

The opposition strategists predicted approval of a motion to send the bill back to the judiciary committee which would sidetrack it at least for the remainder of this session. The motion probably will be made as soon as they have finished their case.

Publicly, the line-up still was 40 against the compromise measure and 39 for it. Several of the remaining 17, however, were committed privately one way or the other.

Opposition leaders said a half dozen Democrats were ready to follow Bailey, and that the Republicans probably would get into the fray within another day or two.

Bailey called the administration's substitute just as objectionable as the President's original bill, which would have permitted addition of as many as six justices at once.

Both bills, he declared, are unconstitutional. Their purpose, he contended, is to control the court's decisions, for which there is no provisions in the Constitution.

DAVEY APPOINTEE IS NOT CONFIRMED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 13 — The state senate rules committee continued consideration today of several appointments by Gov. Martin L. Davey, with indications that one, that of J. Freer Bittinger of Ashland to be a member of the industrial commission, might face tough sledding.

The committee held a long session last night without sending its recommendations to the floor and word came privately from some committee members that Bittinger's appointment polled only one favorable vote in the group.

Bittinger was speaker of the house in the 91st general assembly and was an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor last fall. He would succeed Thomas M. Gregory of Cincinnati on the commission at a $5,000 annual salary, if confirmed by the senate.

REGISTRATION LIGHT FOR PRIMARIES HERE

Only 324 New Names and Transfers Listed at Deadline Last Night

Despite the fact that more than twice as many persons came to the board of election offices yesterday to register or file transfers as appeared during the seven months following the November election, the total is still the lowest in the history of the county. As the deadline for registering and transferring for the Aug. 10 primaries fell last night, the total stood at 324.

Of this total 224 registered or filed transfers yesterday. C. G. Ritzler, deputy clerk said. The board's offices in the Marion Federal Savings & Loan association building were open until 6:30 p. m. and assisting Mr. Ritzler were Bud Lawson, clerk of the board and Clyde Ullom, board member, during the last few hours.

The usual number of registrations and transfers for a primary election is about 750, Mr. Ritzler said. The extremely small number this summer is a result of the heavy vote last fall which made it unnecessary for many persons to re-register.

Till noon today three persons had voted in the Aug. 10 primary by absent voters ballots. The first was William H. Foster of 296 East Church street and the second two were Mr. and Mrs. John Abel of 581 South Main street.

Persons who expect to be away from Marion on Aug. 10 or persons physically unable to appear at the polls may apply for such ballots until Aug. 7. Application may be made personally at the boards offices or by mail.

Germans have developed a new chemical process for tanning sole leather that will reduce Germany's dependence upon foreign sources of tanning materials.

BIRTHS

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter, Barbara Joan, on July 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smart of Chicago. Mr. Smart is the son of Mrs. Nora E. Smart of East George street and left Marion about 10 years ago.

CONDUCT CHARGE

Charles Miller, 63, was arrested by police this morning at 8:20 o'clock on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. He was taken into custody at the relief headquarters building on South Prospect after allegedly using abusive language. He was being held in the city prison pending arraignment in municipal court.

When a new household oven reaches a desired temperature a red signal appears above the temperature regulating dial.

DELAY OHIO GAMES

CANTON, O., July 13—C. A. Studer, hoping to arrange the Ohio semi-pro baseball championship tournament, said today that opening of the series probably would be postponed from Wednesday to Saturday to permit more entrants to register. Fifteen have registered so far, Studer said, and it was believed more than 20 would be obtained by the postponement.

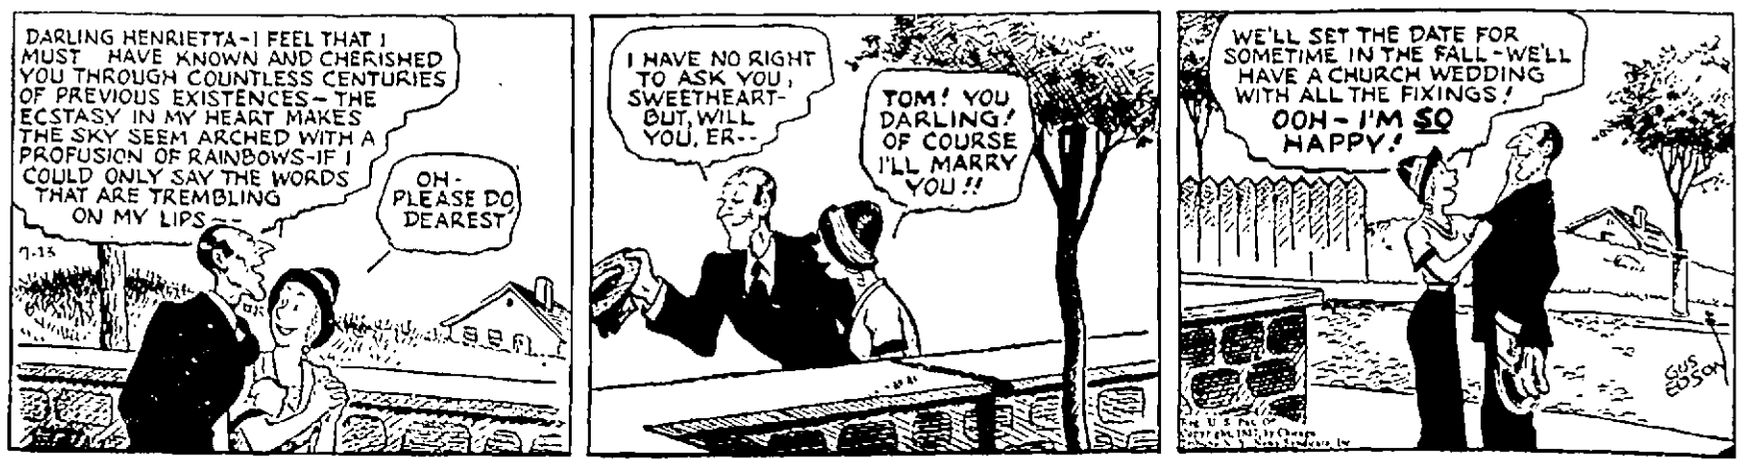
The Gumps — By Gus Edson



DARLING HENRIETTA-I FEEL THAT I MUST HAVE KNOWN AND CHERISHED YOU THROUGH COUNTLESS CENTURIES OF PREVIOUS EXISTENCES—THE ECSTASY IN MY HEART MAKES THE SKY SEEM ARCHED WITH A PROFUSION OF RAINBOWS-IF I COULD ONLY SAY THE WORDS THAT ARE TREMBLING ON MY LIPS—
OH-PLEASE DO DEAREST
7-13
I HAVE NO RIGHT TO ASK YOU, SWEETHEART-BUT, WILL YOU, ER--
TOM! YOU DARLING! OF COURSE I'LL MARRY YOU!!
WE'LL SET THE DATE FOR SOMETIME IN THE FALL-WE'LL HAVE A CHURCH WEDDING WITH ALL THE FIXINGS!
OOH-I'M SO HAPPY!
